A Drink with Shane MacGowan Shane MacGowan,Victoria Mary Clarke,2001 But as A Drink with Shane MacGowan shows, the inspiration for his artistry and beliefs is as varied as his range of mind – embracing Ireland, religion, his family, esoteric philosophy and history.--Jacket.

Women of Design Beverly Russell,1992 In the United States, the practice of interior design has been considered women's territory, regarded by the majority of architects, most of whom are male, as a lesser discipline. In the past 150 years, however, designing women have made their mark, first as domestic decorators and since the late 1940s as interior designers responsible for the planning, furnishing, and execution of the interior architecture of multimillion dollar corporate, financial, and other important environments for thousands of people. Women of Design profiles thirty-two of these working women: the first generation of American women to dominate the world of commercial interior design, a multibillion dollar industry in the United States. They have overcome gender discrimination to establish themselves successfully as heads of their own independent practices or as valued principals in some of the largest interior design firms in the country. They have excelled as creators of spaces and products and as business people, serving as models for and opening the doors to a new generation of American women interior designers. Their designs for a variety of projects, ranging from retail, office, commercial, hotel, and restaurant environments, as well as residential gems, stand as proof of the immense pool of talented women who have emerged as leaders in a particular industry. Some of those included have also entered the world of design education, serving as deans and teachers at prominent design schools, molding and training future talents. These remarkable women designers from every corner of the nation offer insights into their struggle to achieve success, revealing their personal and professional philosophies. Photographs of some of their finest achievements are included in this colorful and groundbreaking volume that serves as a testament to the enormous achievements American women have made in this field during the past century.--BOOK JACKET.Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America, Inc. From Star Strings Akihito Tsukushi,2021-08-26 In Made in Abyss, bestselling creator Akihito Tsukushi took you deep into the earth. Now, in this riveting manga, he recounts the tale of an epic journey into the sky--and far, far beyond. When Kororu, a little girl living alone on a distant planet, finds a mysterious string hanging from the sky, she's left with just one choice: to climb it. Where does the string lead? And will she survive the journey to the other end?

Angel of the Dump Jane Walker,2017-06-16 Angel of the Dump tells the remarkable story of Jane Walker. Jane had developed anorexia and attempted suicide by the age of twelve. By fifteen, having been asked by her parents to leave home, she found herself on the street where her life quickly spiraled out of control. When a friendly neighbor took her to church she made a commitment to God and for a season her newfound celebrity status within the church bolstered her crushed ego. But it wasn't enough. She found a job in the newspaper industry and quickly rose through the ranks while running scams and drug deals on the side. Eventually, desperate, she turned back to God declaring that she would do anything for him just so long as He changed her life. Days later she started to think about the Philippines. Flying to Manila, she found her way to an enormous beachside dump, Pier 18, where hundreds scavenged the waste. There she saw the faces of children that told a familiar story – abandonment and rejection, powerlessness and hopelessness. And in those faces she found her life's call. She had to do something. She set to work, picking rubbish with the children, raising funds, engaging a pastor, nurse and schoolteacher, setting up the Philippines Community Fund, praying hard. A businessman paid her travel. A school was constructed from shipping containers and a church began. It is now 1500 strong. Between the education, feeding, and health programmes over 50,000 people are helped every year. Child labor has ended and families are moving off the site. This is a truly inspiring story of the difference one individual can make when they are totally surrendered to God.

Breaking the Silence Mariette Hartley,Anne Commire,2010-01 Mariette Hartley's Polaroid commercials with James Garner and her Emmy Award-winning television performances have made her one of America's favorite stars. But hidden behind her high good humor was a family legacy of abuse, suicide, and alcoholism that nearly destroyed her. Growing up the privileged granddaughter of pioneering psychologist John B. Watson, who preached that children should never be kissed, hugged, or even touched, Mariette went from days of martinis, tweeds, and roses in suburban Connecticut to madcap nights in Hollywood, outwardly leading a charmed life. Inside, though, her family secrets and abusive husband were pushing her toward tragedy. Filled with wit, humanity and marvelous inside stories of Hollywood and television, Breaking the Silence is the story of Mariette's triumphant journey to hope, courage and a happy new life—a work as warm and engaging as the woman herself.
