F-100 Super Sabre at War Thomas E. Gardner, 2007

North American F-100 Super Sabre Peter E. Davies, 2003 The North American F-100 Super Sabre was the world's first jet fighter capable of supersonic speed in level flight. This expert, detailed history presents the last word on this well-loved aircraft.

Supersonic Eagles W. D. Becker, 2012 Following the Second World War, major advancements in aviation technology allowed the development of jet aircraft with capabilities undreamt of only a few years earlier. During the 1950s, the US Air Force placed six new jet fighters into service, which became known as the Century Series Fighters. In this publication the histories of the F-100 Super Sabre, F-101 Voodoo, F-102 Delta Dagger, F-104 Starfighter, F-105 Thunderchief, and the F-106 Delta Dart are related.

F-100 Super Sabre Bert Kinzey, 1989-01-01

American Aviation Icons 1 Theodore Gianna, 2022-07-08 The F-100 Super Sabre, was the first of the elite jets; the famous 'Century Series'. It was also America's first jet to enter the Vietnam War, where it performed well as a close support fighter-bomber. This book offers a concise history of the F-100 Super Sabre, and describes the different variants. There is also a section in the book which recounts some of the more important operations that the Super Sabre performed in the Vietnam conflict, like the 'Wild Weasel' operations, and the 'Misty' 'Forward Air Control' (FAC) operations. The book also includes over 40 paint schemes of the aircraft, and it is mainly composed of color photos of the F-100 Super Sabre. Maybe the 'Hun', as the jet was nicknamed, was not the perfect jet fighter, but it broke several records throughout its illustrious service life, and it will forever be remembered for being the first jet in the world to break the sonic barrier in level flight. No one can ever that that away from the 'HUN'.

Fighter Jets Curtis L. Boyll,1988

Davies,David Menard,2011-08-23 Osprey's examination of the F-100 Super Sabre Units' participation in the Vietnam War (1955-1975).

While the F-105 Thunderchief and F-4 Phantom flew the majority of the fighter-bomber missions over North Vietnam, the Thunderchief's service predecessor, the F-100 Super Sabre stayed on to fight the air war in South Vietnam until June 1971. Although it was designed as an air defence fighter, and was later given nuclear capability as the mainstay of Tactical Air Command's deterrent posture, it was the F-100's toughness, adaptability and reliability that made it ideally suited to the incessant 'taxi-rank' close support and counter-insurgency missions in Vietnam. The jet's four 20 mm cannon and external loads of bombs, rockets and fire-bombs defeated many enemy incursions, with US troops in contact expressing a preference for the accuracy and skill of F-100 pilots to save them in situations where ordnance had to be dropped very close to their own lines. Many courageous deeds were performed, although 242 F-100s and 87aircrew were lost in action. Used at the start of Operation Rolling Thunder in March 1965 as an escort for F-105 strikes, the Super Sabre fought MiGs and one pilot made a credible claim for a MiG-17 destroyed, but the more capable F-4 Phantom II soon replaced it in this role. The air-to-ground war was fought by F-100C/D/F pilots from 21 TAC and Air National Guard squadrons at six bases in South Vietnam and Thailand. From September 1965, a number of two-seat F-100Fs were equipped to detect and pinpoint SA-2 missile sites, and they led F-105s in to destroy them in hazardous missions that founded the suppression of enemy air defences (SEAD) techniques developed for F-105F and F-4C 'Wild Weasel' aircraft later in the war. Other F-100Fs replaced fragile piston-engined forward air control (FAC) aircraft, providing more survivable high-speed airborne management of strike missions. Maj George Day, awarded the Medal of Honor in 1973, was the first leader of this 'Misty FAC' unit. The aircraft's strengths and eccentricities will be examined through analysis of its performance and the anecdotes of those who flew and serviced it.

Twin Mustang Alan C. Carey, 2014-02-24 “A comprehensive look at the 272-plane F-82 fleet . . . This is a fine addition to Carey’s body of work and to anyone’s aviation library.”—HistoryNet One of the most unusual and remarkable American fighter aircraft, the F-82 Twin Mustang was the last mass production propeller-driven fighter acquired by the U.S. Air Force. Originally intended as a very long-range fighter escort for the Boeing B-29 Superfortress during World War II, it arrived too late to see combat and evolved into a night and all-weather fighter during the post-war years. Combat operations in the Korean War followed, along with a host of other dynamic episodes of deployment. This work traces the developmental, operational, and combat history of this unique American fighter and features 120 photographs and illustrations, many of which have never been published before. Seven chapters, all extensively illustrated, cover the aircraft’s development, descriptions of the variants and sub-types, details of initial entry into service, three chapters covering the F-82’s service in the Korean War, and a final chapter detailing the type’s removal from the Korean War Theatre in February 1952, to see out its operational days in the Alaskan Air Defense Command. “If you’re an historian like me, you'll love this book. It lists every F-82 to serve in Korea, every crewman lost in combat, every squadron which used them, and all the pertinent tech details about each version. Photos illustrate the planes from nearly every squadron (if not all) and captions offer in-depth information not included in the text—so they really add value.”—My Hobby Info

F-100D/F Super Sabre Walk Around Len Lundh, Don Greer, Dave Gebhardt, Matheu Spraggins, 2007-01-01 F-100D/F Super Sabre Walk Around. North American's F-100 Super Sabre was the first of the famous Century Series fighters, and America's first capable of supersonic speed in level flight. During the Cold War, it stood as a guardian of freedom around the world. Capable of carrying nuclear weapons while operating from bases in the US, Pacific and Europe, it helped deter communist aggression. In Vietnam, Super Sabres shouldered the bulk of the attack role for many years provided a platform for high-speed forward Air Control, and pioneered the Wild Weasel concept before the F-105s and F4s took on the role. Under peaceful skies, performances by the USAF Skyblazers and Thunderbirds served to awe the crowds and inspire future pilots. At the end of their service lives, more than 200 F-100s served as target drones, training the crews of later generations of fighters. More than 150 photographs, line drawings and 20 color profiles.

Century Series Fighters Peter R. Foster, 1992

F-100 Super Sabre Lou Drendel, 2019 The North American F-100 Super Sabre was the first of the Century Series of American fighters. It was also the most heavily produced of that series, and as such, was flown by more USAF fighter pilots than any other Century Series fighter. It was at the leading edge of supersonic fighters (It was the first American airplane capable of level supersonic speeds) and those pilots who flew this pioneering fighter have many stories to tell of their experiences. Many of those stories appear in this book, whether in testing, peacetime Cold War missions or combat in Vietnam. Those stories are augmented by more than 200 color photos and illustrations, many of which come from hi-resolution private collections.--
