Moving the Masses: Bus-Rapid Transit (BRT) Policies in Low Income Asian Cities Suryani Eka Wijaya, Muhammad Imran, 2019-02-25 Public transport in low-income Asian (LIA) cities fails to meet people's mobility needs, generates high greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and worsens social exclusion. Following successful Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) projects in Bogota and Curitiba, LIA countries promoted BRT in their large to medium-sized cities. However, the political and institutional structure distinctive to LIA cities makes their implementation difficult. This book investigates policy tensions by examining the planning and attempted implementation of BRT projects, taking Bandung and Surabaya in Indonesia as case studies. It analyses BRT to understand how power and communication gaps in institutional relationships between different actors at multiple levels of governance create conflict, and concludes that top-down policies and funding mechanisms cause tension in intergovernmental relationships. It also found that BRT solutions generated socio-political tension arising from the socio-economic realities and local political dynamics that shaped city structure, mobility patterns and capacity in resolving conflicts. The superimposed BRT solution generated discursive tension because conflicting discourses were not aligned with local economic, social, and environmental issues. The book highlights the need to take into consideration the vital role of local social and political actors, institutions and planning processes as they respond to and shape policies that are imposed by higher levels.

Sustainable Transport Studies in Asia Akimasa Fujiwara, Junyi Zhang, 2013-06-04 This book aims to provide a good understanding of and perspective on sustainable transport in Asia by focusing on economic, environmental, and social sustainability. It is widely acknowledged that the current situation and trends in transport are not always sustainable in Asia, due in part to the fast-growing economy and the astounding speed of urbanization as well as least-mature governance. As essential research material, the book provides strong support for policy makers and planners by comprehensively covering three groups of strategies, characterized by the words "avoid" (e.g., urban form design and control of car ownership), "shift" (e.g., establishing comprehensive transportation systems and increasing public transportation systems for both intracity and intercity travel), and "improve" (e.g., redesign of paratransit system, low-emission vehicles, intelligent transportation systems, and eco-life). These are elaborated in the book alongside consideration of the uncertainty of policy effects in the future. The book is also valuable for scholars and scientists because of the diverse methodologies presented and proposed herein. Among those are the four-step model with full feedback mechanisms, the bi-level programming model with sustainability goals, data envelopment analysis and stochastic frontier analysis approaches, structural equation models, discrete and/or continuous choice models, copula-based models, survival models, and driving risk models with short-term memory. Using data collected from more than ten Asian cities, including those in both developed and developing nations, the pathway to sustainable transport in Asia gradually becomes clear.

Public Transportation Business - Jejak Pustaka Dedi Kurniawan, The way people get around is changing very fast. Angkot cooperatives, the businesses that run small vans in Bandung City, have an important decision to make. They used to be an important part of the city's public transportation system, but now they have new competition from ride-hailing apps and young people's changing transportation preferences. This book is aimed to propose new strategies for Angkot cooperatives dealing with new challenges specifically to meet the needs of millennials in the market.

Dos and Don'ts for Tourists in Bandung Muhammad Tegar Ramadhan, Dr. Dedy

Setiawan, MA, MEd, 2021-07-30 To travel to other places, we do not just need a hotel to stay, a restaurant to eat, or a map that will direct us. But we also need to know the customs or culture of the place to be visited. The latter is often neglected because they think that everything will be normal. While, knowledge about the culture or customs of a place is essential. This knowledge will allow us to help enjoy the place we are going, avoid problems that may occur, and keep us from embarrassing actions. The knowledge about the culture is necessary to go abroad with a much different language and culture. Even going to other cities or provinces of the same country, differences in customs can be found. Ignorance of culture and customs, including rules and laws that apply elsewhere, can get us into legal problems such as fine or even subject to imprisonment. As an example, when we cross the road, what is certain is that if you do it carelessly, you will be punished. However, the penalties that apply in one country will be different from another. If that happened in Indonesia, for example, maybe the punishment would only be a warning. However, if it is done in another country such as Australia, the penalty is around $70.00 or Rp.700,000; and it must be fulfilled. What would you do or how would you feel if that happened to you? Not only the bad feeling is there, but also there will be the feeling or desire to go home so that your trip is disrupted and cannot be enjoyed. This book reveals various kinds of customs that apply in Bandung. When it is written, it is a law or rule that must be obeyed. But, habit is not written and it is a custom that if you follow it you will be liked and respected by the surrounding community. But if you do not obey it, you will feel the displeasure of society on you. Habits are sometimes effortless and small. But we must believe that knowledge of this habit will lead you to comfort and enjoyment when you are in that place. This book contains many unwritten customs and rules in Bandung and its surroundings. But it could be that this customary rule applies elsewhere throughout Indonesia. Many habits have not yet been incorporated into this relatively small book. But hopefully, this book will provide new knowledge for those of you who will be in Bandung and its surroundings so that you can enjoy the existence of Bandung. This book was originally a student's final project in the English department of the Bandung State Polytechnic. However, because the benefits are quite large for tourists visiting Bandung, this manuscript is published so that it can be read by many people both at home and abroad. That is why this book is written in two languages: English and Indonesian.

Informal Public Transport in Practice Meleckidzedek Khayesi, Fredrick Muyia Nafukho, 2016-03-03 Transport discourse often concentrates on what is missing from transport policy and practice in developing countries vis-à-vis high-income countries rather than articulating local creativity in responding to transport needs as revealed in informal public transport modes such as matatu, motorcycle, bicycle and animal transport. This book helps to correct some of the tendency of inadequate contextualization of knowledge, technology and practice learning and transfer from one setting to another in transport and other development programmes. While countries such as Kenya have ambitions to develop their transport systems to fit into the globalized transport system, they also need to plan transport for ordinary life in both urban and rural areas. The matatu service, provided by privately-owned transport carriers, can be seen as a mirror of the life of Kenya, revealing how indigenous African entrepreneurship and capitalism straddles various economic, political and social systems. This book offers a phenomenological and situated analysis of the matatu entrepreneurship in the political economy of Kenya and its embeddedness in society. By adopting a social science approach, this book highlights a number of political, social and practical issues to demonstrate the matatu is not a decontextualized, disembodied and lifeless piece of moving metal carrying people and goods but rather part of a self-organizing industry, with its own logic of practice. This book is dedicated to Ajanga Khayesi.

Kado Terbaik - unedited version J.S. Khairen, 2022-12-29 Namaku Rizki.

Usiaku empat belas tahun. Saat ini aku berdiri di depan panti asuhan, membawa dua adik perempuanku. Bukan, aku bukan anak yatim piatu. Ibuku masih hidup. Tapi, dua menit yang lalu adalah hari terakhir kali aku bertemu dengan ibu. Hingga kelak aku dewasa, kami tak pernah bertemu lagi. Sementara ayahku tewas tertembak. Panti asuhan ini bukan panti asuhan betulan. Dari luar memang ada plang bertuliskan panti asuhan. Di dalamnya? Penjara yang amat menakutkan. Tak perlu menunggu besok bagi kami merasakan hal mengerikan. Di hari pertama kedatangan, malamnya kami bertiga langsung hampir mati. Kalian, saat seusia kami, sedang melakukan apa? Inilah ceritaku. Tak banyak yang tahu, tak banyak yang maun mendengarkan inilah kisahku, tentang kado terbaik itu. Semoga aku bercerita pada orang yang tepat.
