Through experimentation and research, he discovered that for any subject there was a list of essential words, that, when mastered, unlocked a student's ability to progress in the subject. We called this set of vocabulary the Insider's Words. When he applied these Insider's Words the results were incredible. His students began to learn with ease. He was on his way to developing the landmark series of Books and applications to teach this Insider's Language to students around the world. Our books and applications are helpful to any student. They are especially helpful to struggling students, English language learners, and students beginning a course of study. The strongest students will also enjoy the puzzle and game aspect of the books. The atlas consists of 12 days of data from 1969 (ATS-5), 38 days from 1970 (ATS-5), 37 days from 1974 (ATS-6), and 8 days from 1976 (ATS-6). The data are 10-min averages of the first four moments of the plasma distribution function for the electrons and ions. The data are presented in the form of spectrograms and line plots along with detailed ephemeris and geophysical information. ATS Observations of Sudden Increases of Total Electron Content Induced by EUV and X-ray Burst of Solar Flares Richard Frank Donnelly, Richard Blair Fritz, 1975 ATS-satellite observations of sudden increases in total electron content (SITECs) produced by extreme-ultraviolet (EUV) and X-ray bursts of solar flares are presented quantitatively and interpreted qualitatively. Large SITECs for the white-light flare of July 4, 1974, and for the large flares on July 5, September 10, and September 19, 1974, are illustrated. The time rate of change of total electron content $dN(\text{subscript})T/dt$ was directly compared with SFD (Sudden Frequency Deviations) measurements. The ATS-6 $dN(\text{subscript})T/dt$ measurements are essentially transionospheric SFD measurements. The main difference with respect to ground-based SFD measurements is that, in addition to the 100 to 200 km altitude range where ionospheric electron loss rates are high, the ATS-6 measurements also observe the low loss-rate F2 region. Because of this low ionization loss rate, $dN(\text{subscript})T/dt$ includes more of the slow radiation effects and proceeds to a negative decay phase much later than the ground-based SFDs.
