The Avro Arrow Palmiro Campagna,2024-02-06 "No one has done more than Palmiro Campagna to document the story of Canada's extraordinary Avro Arrow ... This latest work sheds new light on the Arrow's fascinating saga." – ANDREW CHAIKIN, author of A Man on the Moon An expanded edition of the bestselling book, including newly discovered American records that shed further light on the disastrous cancellation of the Avro Arrow. The controversial cancellation of the Avro Arrow – an extraordinary achievement of Canadian military aviation – continues to inspire debate today. When the program was scrapped in 1959, all completed aircraft and those awaiting assembly were destroyed, along with tooling and technical information. Was abandoning the program the right decision? Did Canada lose more than it gained? Brimming with information to fill the gaps in the Arrow's troubled history, this new edition also brings to light recently discovered documents that answer whether the United States government wished Canada to continue the development of what was considered the world's most advanced interceptor aircraft.

The Avro Arrow Story Bill Zuk,2011-12-14 These dedicated men and women gave blood, sweat, and tears as their contribution - And now, it really happened, our beloved bird was in the air. - Ray Boone, A.V. Roe Canada employee. In the 1950s, A. V. Roe Canada was at the forefront of aviation development worldwide. After building one of the first jet airliners and completing production of Canada's first jet fighter, the company was poised to launch its most revolutionary design - the Avro Arrow. Despite the efforts of courageous test pilots and some of the world's best designers, engineers, and technicians, the dream was shattered.

Aviation Systems Andreas Wittmer, Thomas Bieger, Roland Müller, 2011-08-17 This book aims to provide comprehensive coverage of the field of air transportation, giving attention to all major aspects, such as aviation regulation, economics, management and strategy. The book approaches aviation as an interrelated economic system and in so doing presents the "big picture" of aviation in the market economy. It explains the linkages between domains such as politics, society, technology, economy, ecology, regulation and how these influence each other. Examples of airports and airlines, and case studies in each chapter support the application-oriented approach. Students and researchers in business administration with a focus on the aviation industry, as well as professionals in the industry looking to refresh or broaden their knowledge of the field will benefit from this book.

The Avro Type 698 Vulcan David W. Fildes, 2012-05-19 The Avro Vulcan was the last V Bomber to see active service in its primary role during the Falklands conflict. It is the most popular of the three and one aircraft has recently become airborne again after a long period of rejuvenation. It has always been a major attraction at air shows throughout the world, attracting crowds who delight in its unique delta-wing shape and amazing maneuverability. The book examines the origins of the design, the prototypes and experimental aircraft, and goes on to explain the modifications that were made to the last of the breed. A leading member of the Avro Historical Society, the author has discovered many photographs and experimental design plans in their archives which are here published for the first time.

Just Like Being There Eric Choi, 2022-05-07 Just Like Being There is the first collection of science fiction stories by award-winning author and aerospace engineer Eric Choi spanning his 25 year writing career. The stories are “hard” science fiction in which some element of engineering or science is so central there would be no story if that element were removed. Story topics include space exploration, artificial intelligence, virtual reality, cryptography, quantum computing, online privacy, mathematics (statistics), neuroscience, psychology, space medicine, extra-terrestrial intelligence, undersea exploration, commercial aviation, and the history of science. A special feature of the book is that each story is followed by an Afterword that explains the underlying engineering or science. This collection will entertain and inform all aficionados of science and science fiction.

Jet Age Sam Howe Verhovek, 2011-08-02 The captivating story of the titans, engineers, and pilots who raced to design a safe and lucrative passenger jet. In Jet Age, journalist Sam Howe Verhovek explores the advent of the first generation of jet airliners and the people who designed, built, and flew them. The path to jet travel was triumphal and amazingly rapid—less than fifty years after the Wright Brothers' first flight at Kitty Hawk, Great Britain led the world with the first commercial jet plane service. Yet the pioneering British Comet was cursed with a tragic, mysterious flaw, and an upstart Seattle company put a new competitor in the sky: the Boeing 707 Jet Stratoliner. Jet Age vividly recreates the race between two nations, two global airlines, and two rival teams of brilliant engineers for bragging rights to the first jet service across the Atlantic Ocean in 1958. At the center of this story are great minds and courageous souls, including Sir Geoffrey de Havilland, who spearheaded the development of the Comet, even as two of his sons lost their lives flying earlier models of his aircraft; Sir Arnold Hall, the brilliant British aerodynamicist tasked with uncovering the Comet's fatal flaw; Bill Allen, Boeing's deceptively mild-mannered president; and Alvin Tex Johnston, Boeing's swashbuckling but supremely skilled test pilot. The extraordinary airplanes themselves emerge as characters in the drama. As the Comet and the Boeing 707 go head-to-head, flying twice as fast and high as the propeller planes that preceded them, the book captures the electrifying spirit of an era: the Jet Age. In the spirit of Stephen Ambrose's Nothing Like It in the World, Verhovek's Jet Age offers a gorgeous rendering of an exciting age and fascinating technology that permanently changed our conception of distance and time, of a triumph of engineering and design, and of a company that took a huge gamble and won.

Engineering a Successful Life Lewis Hong Chow, 2005 This is an incredible biography of a Canadian-born aeronautical engineer who has worked at every major aircraft company and the National Research Council in Canada for the past 50 years. It includes helping Jacqueline Cochran break the sound barrier and establish a number of world airspeed records in 1953. General Chuck Yeager, her good friend, helped her in the air, and Lewis helped her on the ground by providing her with a Canadian F 86 Sabre 3 powered with a special Orenda engine for her record attempts. Of interest to all Canadians is that the production version of the Canadian F 86 Sabre 3 became the best jet fighter in the world in the 1950s and 1960s. The author's last aeronautical career move was joining Pratt & Whitney Canada, where he played a key role as the company became the world leader in design and development of small turbine engines. He accomplished this by successfully negotiating with the Federal Government for hundreds of millions of dollars in repayable loans to design and develop new jet engines. The biography also includes Lewis' remarkable humanitarian work. It started with his joining a local Lions Club in 1961, and it progressed to building two new hospitals in Montreal for the Chinese community. In his retirement in Ottawa since 1989 he has been with the University of Ottawa Heart Institute, initially to assist with the design of a new artificial heart and then later to negotiate with provincial and federal governments for financial assistance to develop the artificial heart.
