Beamer Learns About Traumatic Brain Injury Cindy Chambers,2017-11-13 Come with Beamer and his best friend Kyle as they learn about Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) from Dr. Schreiber, who in real life is a Pediatric Neurologist, and from Olivia, who in real life has a TBI. Join them on their journey as they learn what a TBI is, and how to be good supportive friends for Olivia. “ A special thanks to Olivia Lang and family, the authors, and contributors for sharing Olivia's personal and inspirational story as a patient living with Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI). The narrative, as told through the compassionate eyes of Beamer, Kyle, and pediatric neurologist Dr. Schreiber, helps us to not only define and understand TBI and the resultant changes that take place within the brain, but illustrates how living with this type of injury affects children's daily lives, school participation, and relationships. This Tell Me Town book serves as a reminder for us all to take the time to “walk in another's shoes” such that we may embrace the challenges faced by TBI patients with a sense of knowledge and caring.” Raquel Langdon, MD Pediatric Neurologist, Co-Director of Pediatric Headache Center for Neurosciences and Behavioral Health, Children's National Health System and Pediatric Specialists of Virginia “ This book is an excellent story for anyone interested in learning more about the challenges facing children after experiencing a traumatic brain injury (TBI). Olivia's story highlights the unique hurdles that kids with brain injuries may face in their school, home and community environments while simultaneously providing suggestions for ways that others can help. As a pediatric psychologist, I have seen first-hand the emotional, social, physical and cognitive changes associated with brain injuries. I am thrilled to now have this book as a resource for guiding children as they process their own experiences and prepare to talk with friends, peers, or teachers about the impact of their TBI. I especially love that the telling of this story is from the perspective of Beamer and his friend Kyle as it emphasizes the role of peers in helping others by showing compassion!” Kendra Battaglia, PsyD Director of Psychology Pediatric Specialists of VA “ Beamer, Tell Me Town, and Cindy Chambers have created yet another fantastic book for children and families! By breaking down what a Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) is, discussing how people live with it, and how to be a good friend to someone with TBI, they demystify this very difficult condition. It explains TBI at a child's level and what's even more important is that it focuses on how people with TBI or any other condition can go to school, live life, and have friends, even if it looks, feels, or seems a little bit different. Having a disease or condition as a child can be extremely isolating. These stories show that children are not alone, and that we can embrace each other's differences in a loving and supportive way.” Jamie Gentile, MPH, CCLS Director, Child Life Services Inova Children’s Hospital

Piper Stays Overnight At The Hospital: The Beamer Book Series Cindy Chambers,2018-11-20 Come with Piper as she experiences her first overnight stay at the hospital. Join Piper as she meets Miss Jamie the Child Life Specialist, Dr. McNice, the nurses and the techs; all working together to make her stay as nice as it can be. Beamer the therapy dog narrates this delightful story. He introduces us to some of the very special people we can find at Children’s hospitals everywhere, gently caring for those we love. “Being a patient in the hospital can be a very scary time. Thanks to Cindy Chambers for writing this book to help all children cope with being a patient in the hospital, and for highlighting the role of the child life specialist. Our child life specialist is a critical member of our team. We could not do what we do without their expertise.” Lucas R. Collazo, M.D. Director of Pediatric Cardiac Surgery and Co-Director of the Pediatric Heart Program Medical Staff President, Inova Fairfax Medical Campus Inova Children’s Hospital, Falls Church, Virginia “A hospital stay can be frightening and confusing to children with special health care needs and their families. Tell Me Town’s Piper Stays Overnight At The Hospital gently follows young Piper as she meets a Child Life Specialist who helps navigate the hospital visit and manage medical procedures. Advance reading of Piper’s story will alleviate the anxieties of a pediatric inpatient stay. This delightful adventure with Piper, Miss Jamie and Beamer offers children and families a great opportunity to predict and prepare for an important medical experience.” Kelly Henderson, Ph.D. Mom and Executive Director, Formed Families Forward Instructional Faculty, College of Education and Human Development George Mason University, Fairfax Virginia “Piper Stays Overnight At The Hospital introduces two specific “helpers” found in many pediatric settings - child life specialists and therapy dogs! Having retired from Child Life, I appreciate the description that Child Life Specialist Miss Jamie provides about an IV start and some useful coping techniques. The narrator, therapy dog Beamer, is a delightful character who makes important observations about the hospital experience. By design, this book has a slightly different approach from others in Cindy Chambers’ series because it does not describe a specific reason for a hospital admission, and thus allows a family to make a personalized adaptation of the story.” Jerriann Myers Wilson, M.Ed., CCLS Retired child life specialist

Let Me Be Frank Frank Beamer,Jeff Snook,2013-09-01 After 26 seasons as head football coach at Virginia Tech University, Frank Beamer is not only the longest tenured but also the winningest active coach of any major college program, and Let Me Be Frank contains his personal reflections on more than a quarter-century leading the Virginia Tech program. Beamer has directed his alma mater to 20 consecutive bowl appearances, including six BCS bowls, five top-10 finishes, and a trip to the National Championship Game in 1999 led by a freshman quarterback named Michael Vick. But success didn’t come immediately: he started his career at VT with four losing seasons in his first six years, including a 2-8-1 record in 1992 when many fans wanted him fired. He relates how he turned a mediocre program into a perennial power while sporting a clean NCAA record and a well-earned reputation as one of the most-respected head coaches in the nation. However, Beamer is regarded as an even better man than a football coach: he created a state-wide program to help children read, and in the aftermath of the deadliest campus massacre in U.S. history, he met with the parents of the victims and visited with each wounded student. He shares stories from his time spent both on and off the gridiron, including memories of generations of Hokies stars such as Vick, André Davis, Jim Druckenmiller, Corey Moore, Jake Grove, and others.

Beamer Learns about Scoliosis Cindy Chambers,2016-06-02 Join Beamer and a classroom full of Middle School students on their journey to learn about Scoliosis. Dr. Moe helps us understand how the spine is impacted and what can be done to help, while the students teach us that no matter what happens in life, we should all show kindness and friendship to one another. “I really enjoyed this book. Cindy Chambers has captured the feelings of children at the typical age at which scoliosis is discovered-middle school. Because scoliosis develops silently and gradually, creating awareness helps timely detection. The reactions, care and proper support are so accurately described here. Both personal and group dimensions are covered. All of the information is accurate. I think this book will help many young people to deal with this challenge in a successful way.” Paul David Sponseller, M.D., M.B.A. Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery, Chief, Division of Pediatric Orthopaedics Department Executive Vice Chair, Orthopaedic Surgery, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, MD “This clear, concise, and fun story, , makes it easy to understand what scoliosis is, how it is detected, diagnosed, and often treated. It also reveals every child’s desire to be accepted by their peers, particularly when something beyond their control, like scoliosis, makes them different. Patients who have the support of their family, friends and medical professionals that “have your back” make all the difference, just like in Adie’s experience. We are very grateful for Cindy Chambers, Dr. Moshirfar, and Mrs. Allan’s 8th grade class at J. Lupton Simpson Middle School for their kindness in writing this wonderful book, promoting education, awareness, and compassionate care for children with scoliosis.” Luke Stikeleather, BSW, CO President, National Scoliosis Center , Fairfax, Virginia <http://www.nationalscoliosiscenter.com/> “Thank you for writing this outstanding story to help children understand scoliosis. Beamer and Dr. Moe do a great job explaining this common developmental pediatric condition. The more we empower our young patients with knowledge about their health conditions, the more they will embrace their differences and support their peers.” Barbra Jill McCabe, MD, FAAP Medical Director Pediatric Emergency and Hospitalist Services, Inova Loudoun Hospital, Leesburg, Virginia “What an honor to have Cindy Chambers share her talents with the students of J. Lupton Simpson Middle School! Her leadership and vision brought young minds to this dynamic and creative process to produce a book that will help children everywhere face the unknowns of scoliosis. In this twelfth Tell Me Town book, Cindy not only educates young readers but inspires middle school students. She provides students with an opportunity to make a difference in the world around them. Now if that’s not respect, thoughtfulness and kindness, what is?” Chad D. Runfolo Principal, J. Lupton Simpson Middle School, Leesburg, Virginia
