- The Beckoning DONALD WEBSTER,2004-12 At the end of America’s age of innocence, just six weeks before the murder of President John F. Kennedy, 17-year old Lee Moffit is told by his father to leave their Stillwater, Oklahoma, farm and never return. With $40 and a German Luger pistol in his pocket, Lee roars across Route 66 on his motorcycle toward California with dreams of becoming a movie stuntman. Following one misadventure after the next, Lee arrives in Venice Beach and is befriended by Iris Pond, a hippie with literary ambitions and a troubled past. Lee’s hope to capture the California dream turns to despair and leads him to a life-defining moment.

- The Beckoning Shadow KATHARYN BLAIR,2019-07-02 From debut author Katharyn Blair comes a heart-stopping fantasy novel, perfect for fans of Cassandra Clare and The Young Elites, about a teenage runaway who enters a dangerous tournament with an impossible prize. Vesper Montgomery can summon your worst fear and turn it into a reality—but she’s learned the hard way that it’s an addicting and dangerous power. One wrong move and you could hurt someone you love. But when she earns a spot in the Tournament of the Unraveling, where competitors battle it out for a chance to rewrite the past, Vesper finally has a shot to reverse the mistakes that have changed her forever. She turns to Sam Hardy, a former MMA fighter who’s also carrying a tragedy he desperately wants to undo. However, helping heal Sam’s heart will mean breaking her own, and the competition forces her to master her powers—powers she has been terrified of since they destroyed her life.
- The Beckoning World DOUGLAS BAUER,2022-11 The Beckoning World is set in the first quarter of the twentieth century, and follows Earl Dunham from the age of twelve to his early fifties. We meet him as a boy about to flee his abusive coal miner-father, for a life in the world, the Beckoning World, which he’s sure - and it’s the only thing he’s sure of -- will take him lyrically away from the one in which he’s lived. And so, having fled, he traces the Midwest’s bituminous seams, resuming the work he’s known, his weeks comprised of six days mining coal and, from early spring until sometime in late fall, Sundays in the light, playing baseball. Camp teams, pick-up games, all that matters to Earl is that he plays, that he pitches, and gets ever better at it. Until, a day of high serendipity, a major-league scout happens on a game, signs Earl to a contract and he begins a life, a dream he’d had no idea was a life a man could dream. But dreams sometimes suffer from a lovely abundance, and in Earl’s case her name is Emily Marchand. She’s a dreamer in her own right, but of a vastly different sort, a beautiful young woman who’s also set out on an adventure, one that’s both like and unlike his, to learn some things about the world. When she meets Earl she soon discovers that the world she wants to learn about is him. Their love is quickly deep, and coming with it are heartbreaking complications that make its growth, its textured world, appear impossible--
- The Beckoning Cat Koko Nishizuka,2015-08 In this story based on a Japanese folktale, an impoverished boy named Yohei shares his dinner with a cat that appears on his doorstep. When Yohei faces a crisis, the cat remembers his generosity and brings help.
- The Beckoning Lady MARGERY ALLINGHAM,2023-04-28 Murder darkens the bright days of summer in an idyllic Suffolk village, in an Albert Campion mystery that is simply “unforgettable” (A.S. Byatt). Private detective Albert Campion’s glorious summer in Pontisbright is blighted by death. Amidst the preparations for Minnie and Tonker Cassand’s fabulous summer party, a murder is discovered—and it falls to Campion to unravel the intricate web of motives, suspicion and deception. Danger is hardly unknown in this idyllic rural village, but it is a less romantic peril than Campion faced on his first visit, more than twenty years ago . . . “My very favourite of the four Queens of Crime is Allingham.” —J. K. Rowling “Margery Allingham has precious few peers and no superiors.” —The Sunday Times “Allingham has that rare gift in a novelist, the creation of characters so rich and so real that they stay with the reader forever.” —Sara Paretsky
- Beckoning Trails Emilie Loring,2022-05-12T00:00:00Z Beautiful, carefree Deborah Randall was enjoying a glorious vacation. Tim Grant, brilliant but ambitious atomic scientist--Professor Burke Romney, handsome enough to be a Hollywood star but with his own quiet strength--and Clive Warner, Deb’s ex-fiance’ determined to win back her love--were all fighting for the honor of taking her dancing, swimming, to gay parties. But when a series of sinister events shattered her round of pleasure and plunged Deborah in mortal danger, one of these men loved her enough to risk his life to save her own. Which one was it?
- The Beckoning Ghost Catherine Kohman,2013-11 The ghost of dashing Victorian explorer Brendan Tyrell haunts Marissa Erickson, his biographer. Their meeting stirs up dangerous currents from the past as well as unsolved mysteries. What happened to Brendan’s unpublished manuscripts? Who was the heavily veiled woman at Brendan’s funeral? And finally, how did Brendan really die? Marissa must find the answers to these troubling questions to free Brendan’s earthbound spirit.
- Nolen Derek Cantrell,2011-09 We have all heard of vampire. The legends vary and so do their abilities and weaknesses. Nolen is the first whose origin is explained scientifically. He is as real as any product of evolution, and like anyone, he struggles to survive the cruel and deceptive society of which we all find ourselves victim from time to time. Despite possessing the inhuman abilities of vampire, Nolen still finds himself fallen prey to betrayal and a tragic fate.
- Beckoning Claudia Cangilla McAdam,2022-01-10 Tabby Long is a non-Christian girl in a Catholic school whose world gets turned upside down when her dad, who has never been a man of faith, experiences a miraculous healing on Good Friday. Her father’s dramatic religious conversion alienates her mother, who deserts the family. In her struggle to understand what has happened to her family, Tabby follows the suggestion of her school’s religion teacher, and she begins spending time reading Scripture while in Eucharistic adoration. Following the practice taught by Saint Ignatius of Loyola, she inserts herself into the biblical stories she reads. Through this process, she “time travels” to first-century Jerusalem, where she is Tabitha Longinus, the daughter of the centurion Gaius Cassius Longinus, who pierces the side of the crucified Jesus, incurs a spontaneous healing, and undergoes immediate conversion. Tabitha is a Gentile girl with Jewish friends and a mother who can’t accept her husband’s newfound (and dangerous) faith. When her mother flees to Rome and her father retires from the army and leaves Jerusalem, Tabitha finds herself alone in the holy city, her life in jeopardy for having entered a part of the Temple that is off-limits to Gentiles. She is drawn into belief in Jesus through her friends who are close to the Apostles, even as she struggles to devise a way to save and reunite her family — a duty that consumes her in her modern-day life as well. Tabitha’s experiences are rooted in the stories found in the first ten chapters of the Acts of the Apostles. On the last of several days of her Scripture meditations, Tabby emerges from adoration with a newfound faith and clarity about how her family can be reunited and healed, all with the help of the Lord.

- The Beckoning Michael Minot,2014-10-15 “Encouraging to fellow believers and a revelation to skeptics . . . a fascinating read.” —Jerry B. Jenkins, #1 New York Times–bestselling coauthor of the Left Behind series I’m often asked to describe what happened during the months I spent researching these issues. They want to know what facts were so persuasive that an atheist attorney would become a believer in God. But I never felt I could respond in a way that told the true story. No short answer seemed sufficient. So now, in the following pages, I’ll describe for the first time the specifics of what jolted me out of my atheism . . . Michael felt he was living the American dream. For a number of years he’d been reaping the professional and financial rewards of being a commercial litigation attorney. To him, life was great and getting better all the time. He first gained notoriety around his hometown as a nationally ranked tennis player. But now, years later, he was becoming known for his skills as a lawyer and as the youngest elected official in the area. And then, in his late twenties, Michael unexpectedly discovered something that turned his world and his entire idea of life upside down. In response to a challenge from a friend, Michael agreed to investigate issues relating to science, philosophy, and the Scriptures. Comfortable with his life as an atheist, he began reading with an indifferent attitude. But what started as a casual inquiry soon turned into a time of intense research. This is the story of Michael’s journey in his own words, his thoughts and reactions to the evidence he discovered—and the new life that soon followed.
- The Beckoning Hand GRANT ALLEN,2021-04-03 I had promised to take Mrs. Latham and Irene to see the French plays which werethen being acted by Marie Leroux’s celebrated Palais Royal company. I wasn’t at thetime exactly engaged to poor Irene: it has always been a comfort to me that I wasn’tengaged to her, though I knew Irene herself considered it practically equivalent toan understood engagement. We had known one another intimately from childhoodupward, for the Lathams were a sort of second cousins of ours, three timesremoved: and we had always called one another by our Christian names, and beenvery fond of one another in a simple girlish and boyish fashion as long as we couldeither of us remember. Still, I maintain, there was no definite understandingbetween us; and if Mrs. Latham thought I had been paying Irene attentions, shemust have known that a young man of two and twenty, with a decent fortune and anice estate down in Devonshire, was likely to look about him for a while before hethought of settling down and marrying quietly.
- The Beckoning Fair One Oliver Onions,2004-08-01 Miles ahead of the average ghost-story — Sunday Times. A novelist retreats to an abandoned house in the heart of London, where he becomes enthralled by an 18th-century spirit — and where his contact with the outside world gradually diminishes. Acclaimed by such masters as Lovecraft as one of the best ghost stories in the English language.
- Beckoning of the Gate Benjamin J. Ryan,2021-10-07 The only life Santha Lathagin has ever known has become her prison. Vicious gossip is everywhere. Whispers of a scandal have turned to accusations of murder, and fingers are pointing her way. Feeling powerless and alone, she yearns for escape. When Santha stumbles upon a small, rusted key in the forest near her home, it seems her silent pleas have been answered. Awakened by her touch, the key demands to be heard—and she is not the only one to heed its call. Thrust into a world only glimpsed in the stories of her childhood—of faeries and princes and eldritch magick— The Beckoning Santha sets out to unlock its secrets. But uncovering the truth has its own perils, and as the
