Thong once again proves her mastery at creating a multicultural picture-book text that engages all readers...The rhyme is rhythmic and effortless, making it a delightful read-aloud...This enchanting presentation of the Dia de los Muertos holiday will resonate with both those who are new to its traditions and those who have been celebrating for generations.—Kirkus Reviews starred review Celebrate life, family, and friends with the rich traditions of this special day! It's Dia de Los Muertos (Day of the Dead) and children throughout the pueblo, or town, are getting ready to celebrate! They decorate with colored streamers, calaveras, or sugar skulls, and pan de muertos, or bread of the dead. There are altars draped in cloth and covered in marigolds and twinkling candles. Music fills the streets. Join the fun and festivities, learn about a different cultural tradition, and brush up on your Spanish vocabulary, as the town honors their dearly departed in a traditional, time-honored style. Hay que unirse con los festivales y abrender una diferente cultura y traduciones y repasar el vocabulario en español, mientras el pueblo honra sus queridos en una traducción con el transcurso y con el estilo del tiempo.

Around the World in Eighty Games Marcus du Sautoy,2023-11-07 A “fun” and “unexpected” (The Economist) global tour of the world’s greatest games and the mathematics that underlies them Where should you move first in Connect 4? What is the best property in Monopoly? And how can pi help you win rock paper scissors? Spanning millennia, oceans and continents, countries and cultures, Around the World in Eighty Games gleefully explores how mathematics and games have always been deeply intertwined. Renowned mathematician Marcus du Sautoy investigates how games provided the first opportunities for deep mathematical insight into the world, how understanding math can help us play games better, and how both math and games are integral to human psychology and culture. For as long as there have been people, there have been games, and for nearly as long, we have been exploring and discovering mathematics. A grand adventure, Around the World in Eighty Games teaches us not just how games are won, but how they, and their math, shape who we are.

Forest of Images Frida Kahlo,2006 This richly illustrated exploration of the sources of Frida Kahlo's inspiration in Mexico's popular arts and folk traditions draws illuminating connections between Kahlo's highly personal creations and the aesthetic traditions that infused her early years: votive paintings, nineteenth-century studio photography (including that of her father Guillermo Kahlo), Catholic iconography, revolutionary corridos and the variegated productions of anonymous craftsmen. Readers will recognize Kahlo's centered parts and moustaches in Jose Maria Estrada's portraits and in anonymous Mexican Catholic paintings. They will see her cutaway, heart-on-sleeve self-portraits, in Jose Maria Velasco's nature studies and butterfly taxonomies. And everywhere they will find the tracks of Kahlo's life, particularly the accident that marred her teen years and the marriage that she described as the second major accident of her life--a passionate union with Mexican mural painter Diego Rivera, of which it has been said that Each regarded the other as Mexico's greatest painter. Kahlo may or may not have been a Surrealist, and she may or may not have been an early variety of feminist artist or have had ideas about what later became feminism, but there is no denying that she is a star. The realist and Symbolist work whose heritage this book traces is known around the world. Texts by Nadia Ugalde and Juan Coronel Rivera also examine related issues such as the influence of Positivism on Frida's education and the roots of her indigenist outlook.

Etnografías de la muerte y las culturas en América Latina Juan Antonio Flores Martos,Luisa Abad González,2007 La muerte ha sido convencionalmente pensada como una realidad única, como quizás uno de los pocos universales que afecta y homogeneiza por igual a los sujetos de diferentes tradiciones y orígenes. Esta creencia consensuada, compartida de modo acrítico, forma parte de las ideas previas que guían los proyectos y programas referidos a la salud, a la enfermedad y a la muerte, diseñados y desarrollados desde instituciones y agencias. Este libro pretende brindar una selección de análisis antropológicos sobre la interacción entre la muerte y la cultura en un contexto convulso -el latinoamericano- de difícil comprensión desde la mirada eurocéntrica y occidental.Se ofrece un abanico plural de perspectivas y reflexiones sobre protagonistas, escenarios y problemas, donde la muerte tiene unas dimensiones singulares y una presencia obscura y compleja. Sus contribuciones están centradas en su mayoría en sociedades y pueblos indígenas, aunque también abordan la muerte en contextos mestizos, afromestizos, urbanos e inclusive en la frontera con Estados Unidos.

Sin azucar no hay país Antonio Santamaría García,2001 En las décadas posteriores a la crisis de 1930 los azucareros cubanos esgrimían la fórmula que titula este libro para defender sus posiciones en política comercial y económica frente a los productores industriales, que reclamaban protección arancelaria y otros incentivos, aduciendo que “sin industrias no hay nación”. El conflicto entre estas dos fórmulas productivas hunde sus raíces en las postimerías del siglo XVIII, sintetizándose en la conocida sentencia “producir azúcar o sucumbir”.

La calavera de Robinson Miguel Sánchez-Ostiz, 2006 La novela cuenta la historia de un coleccionista y buscador de tesoros, Telmo Gamecho, que en 1952 fue testigo de cómo unos buscadores de tesoros pretendían desenterrar el mayor botín de todos los tiempos en la mítica isla de Juan Fernández, en el Mar de Chile, tradicional refugio de piratas y escenario de la vida en solitario del marino escocés Alexander Selkirk, sobre la que Daniel Defoe escribió su Robinson Crusoe. & & & & & La calavera de Robinson es un viaje a través de las vidas de piratas, contrabandistas, criminales y presidiarios, buscavidas, artistas de variedades, marinos olvidados y estafadores que, a su costa, pretenden hacer fortuna, buscadores de tesoros, tránsfugas y robinsones que buscan refugio en las lejanías y, sobre todo, de coleccionistas de reliquias literarias: mapas, bitácoras, esferas armilares, mascarones de proa, que esconden, todas, algún secreto relacionado con el tesoro de lord Anson, enterrado, cuenta la leyenda, en aquella isla lejana, en el año de gracia de 1761.

Skeletons Aurelia Evans, 2019-08-06 Arcanium has more than a few skeletons in its closet... There's a special hell in Arcanium for people who wish to lose weight while in jinni Bell Madoc's presence. The Skellies—the new, female-heavy metal cover band of deathly Living Skeletons—have been looking for a lead singer to round out the ensemble. They find their diva in Vivian Mendez, a difficult woman with a voice like a rock goddess and more skeletons in her closet than Bell has in his band. Vivian always dreamed of being the lead singer in a band, and she's damn good at it. But when she isn't singing, a bottomless hunger consumes her. Nothing is ever enough. The life of every Arcanium Skeleton revolves entirely around food and the odd chef who serves them. But Vivian refuses to play by his rules, refuses to beg him for more and refuses any attempt by the earnest odd chef to satisfy her hunger. In Arcanium, sometimes the harder someone fights, the harder they fall.

Consuming Agency in Fairy Tales, Childlore, and Folk literature Susan Honeyman, 2013-04-15 In this book Honeyman looks at manifestations of youth agency (and representations of agency produced for youth) as depicted in fairy tales, childlore and folk literature, investigating the dynamic of ideological manipulation and independent resistance as it can be read or expressed in bodies, first through social puppetry and then through coercive temptation (our consumption replacing the more obvious strings that bind us). Reading tales like Popeye, Hansel & Gretel, and Pinocchio, Honeyman concentrates on the agency of young subjects through material relations, especially where food signifies the invisible strings used to control them in popular discourse and practice, modeling efforts to come out from under the hegemonic handler and take control, at least of their own body spaces, and ultimately finding that most examples indicate less power than the ideal holds.
