James B. Stockdale

Fire of Courage Shirley Siaton, Shirley Parabia, 2023-05-27 I am not a warrior. My name is Uryana. I am twelve cycles old and a child of the Baraw tribe from the Sa-Babaw peaks. My people have been plagued by the Serpent, a beast made of flame. It first devoured our livestock, then burned our fields and orchards to ashes. Our strongest warriors were called to face this creature, but each of them, including my own father, met their end at its merciless jaws. I was chosen by our tribe Elders to fight the Serpent. Will I be seeing my final dusk tonight, or will the hope and fire in my heart be enough to guide me in my greatest battle? FIRE IN THE SOUL by Shirley Siaton-Parabia Illustrated by Rozy Clemente and Rein Geronimo

Teaching with Fire Sam M. Intrator, Megan Scribner, 2003-10-10 Reclaim Your Fire Teaching with Fire is a glorious collection of the poetry that has restored the faith of teachers in the highest, most transcendent values of their work with children....Those who want us to believe that teaching is a technocratic and robotic skill devoid of art or joy or beauty need to read this powerful collection. So, for that matter, do we all. ?Jonathan Kozol, author of Amazing Grace and Savage Inequalities When reasoned argument fails, poetry helps us make sense of life. A few well-chosen images, the spinning together of words creates a way of seeing where we came from and lights up possibilities for where we might be going....Dip in, read, and ponder; share with others. It's inspiration in the very best sense. ?Deborah Meier, co-principal of The Mission Hill School, Boston and founder of a network of schools in East Harlem, New York In the Confucian tradition it is said that the mark of a golden era is that children are the most important members of the society and teaching is the most revered profession. Our journey to that ideal may be a long one, but it is books like this that will sustain us - for who are we all at our best save teachers, and who matters more to us than the children? Peter M. Senge, founding chair, SoL (Society for Organizational Learning) and author of The Fifth Discipline Those of us who care about the young and their education must find ways to remember what teaching and learning are really about. We must find ways to keep our hearts alive as we serve our students. Poetry has the power to keep us vital and focused on what really matters in life and in schooling. Teaching with Fire is a wonderful collection of eighty-eight poems from such well-loved poets as Walt Whitman, Langston Hughes, Billy Collins, Emily Dickinson, and Pablo Neruda. Each of these evocative poems is accompanied by a brief story from a teacher explaining the significance of the poem in his or her life's work. This beautiful book also includes an essay that describes how poetry can be used to grow both personally and professionally. Teaching With Fire was written in partnership with the Center for Teacher Formation and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. Royalties from this book will be used to fund scholarship opportunities for teachers to grow and learn.

Courage Under Fire James B. His writings have been many and varied, but all converge on the central theme of how man can rise with dignity to prevail in the face of adversity.

An author who knows how to access the power and gifts of the Holy Spirit in everyday life, Staci Wallace helps women resist the forces of darkness and rise up empowered to take on and win whatever battle they face. Courage Among the Flames Pamela Beach, 2019-07-25 When fire rages through the California mountains, several people become trapped and must try to outrun the flames. Fire is a constant threat to California. The vineyards, mountains, and hills become tinder under the relentless sun. The risk is high, but people don't seem to mind...until disaster strikes. A group of children heads into the woods for an overnight hike. An elder park ranger acquaints a junior ranger with the extent of the woods. A three-person team sent out by the power company to survey some oscillating lines runs into terrible problems. A homicidal husband pushes his wife off a cliff in an attempt to kill her. The forest is filled with the vagaries of fate. Fire obeys no fate. Fire follows no map. Fire respects nothing, especially the people and property in its path. The senior assisted living facility sits astride the intentions of the conflagration. A hospital fights heroically to treat patients as flames destroy infrastructure. Horses, nervous beyond comprehension, must be loaded into trailers and hauled through the inferno if they are to be saved. A small town, with a single road to safety, panics when that road becomes impassable. Not everyone will survive the voracious appetite of the fire. Houses, barns, buildings, people, all are swept into the blood-red maw of a fire driven by hurricane-force winds. Fatal mistakes are followed by dumb luck. Who lives and who dies is impossible to guess. Hearts are broken, and joys come to those who least expect them. The fire is the only real winner. This is a story of courage and sacrifice in the face of a massive firestorm.
