The Making of Information Systems Karl E.

Kurbel, 2008-04-24 Information systems (IS) are the backbone of any organization today, supporting all major business processes. This book deals with the question: how do these systems come into existence? It gives a comprehensive coverage of managerial, methodological and technological aspects including: Management decisions before and during IS development, acquisition and implementation Project management Requirements engineering and design using UML Implementation, testing and customization Software architecture and platforms Tool support (CASE tools, IDEs, collaboration tools) The book takes into account that for most organizations today, inhouse development is only one of several options to obtain an IS. A good deal of IS development has moved to software vendors – be it domestic, offshore or multinational software firms. Since an increasing share of this work is done in Asia, Eastern Europe, Latin America and Africa, the making of information systems is discussed within a global context.

Future Electricity System Based on Energy Internet: Energy storage system design, Optimal Scheduling, Security, Attack Model and Countermeasures Dou An, Huan Xi, Hanlin Zhang, Jianhua Yang, Lei Chai, 2023-11-09 Energy Internet, a futuristic evolution of electricity system, is conceptualized as an energy sharing network. The energy internet integrates advanced sensors, efficient measurement technologies, advanced control methods, and efficient energy utilization/conversion/storage system to achieve economical, efficient, and environmentally friendly operation of the power grid system. The energy internet also contains a large amount of heterogeneous information, which requires the support of information technology more than traditional power system design. Moreover, due to the open network environment of the energy internet, any anomaly or malicious attack in the system can bring unpredictable and significant losses to the overall grid operation.

Prince Claimed Amber Kell, 2017 Previously Released When fate spins two lives into turmoil, rising above their issues may be the only way to find true love. Prince Bleine always had female mates before. As a Thresl he'd never been given a choice. The animal within chose who it chose. However when his brother-in-law Kreslan mates Bleine to a man in order to save his life, Bleine quickly learns to adapt and that what he's always thought he wanted isn't exactly what he needs. Sarler left his home planet to escape their restrictive ways. Interested in pursuing his interest in men, he had been unsure how to start. When he is inadvertently bonded to Prince Bleine, he is struck by how little he understands about handsome princes or life at court. Secrets and mysteries surround them. Can they discover everything about each other while keeping their enemies at bay? When Sarler is injured, he realises he has to take a chance if he ever hopes to find love with the prince of his dreams. Can he convince Bleine that he sincerely wants to give their relationship a try, or has he waited until it's too late?

Newly enlarged, updated second edition of a valuable, widely used text presents algorithms for shortest paths, maximum flows, dynamic programming and backtracking. Also discussed are binary trees, heuristic and near optimums, matrix multiplication, and NP-complete problems. New to this edition: Chapter 9 shows how to mix known algorithms and create new ones, while Chapter 10 presents the Chop-Sticks algorithm, used to obtain all minimum cuts in an undirected network without applying traditional maximum flow techniques. This algorithm has led to the new mathematical specialty of network algebra. The text assumes no background in linear programming or advanced data structure, and most of the material is suitable for undergraduates. 153 black-and-white illus. 23 tables. Exercises, with answers at the ends of chapters.
