Grand Stand 6 Ana Martins,2017-12-01 The sixth title in the Grand Stand series presents new trends in the ever-changing world of stand design. The scenographic design of space and the creation of a stimulating atmosphere are crucial in shaping human experience. The design of trade fair stands has become increasingly important to exhibiting organizations, and today's designers are playing an essential role in integrating brand identity into fascinating corporate presentations. This inspiring volume covers the creative processes behind 120 temporary spaces, including how to deal with challenges such as restrictions of space and limitations of lighting. The outcome is the realization of transient yet thrilling settings. Divided into nine chapters, including mobility, apparel, and architectural products, many projects are illustrated with sketches and floor plans alongside stunning photography. Each stand is presented on two to four pages with an explanatory text about the design and technical information provided to help further explain the design process from concept to execution. This title is filled with contemporary stand designs that will inspire architects, designers, brand managers, and any individuals interested in the building of ephemeral environments that leave an indelible impression.

Grand Stand ,2008

Grand Stand Clare Lowther,2008 Grand Stand II is a sequel to the resoundingly successful Grand Stand and consists of two volumes whose 568 pages contain nearly 200 remarkable brand and corporate trade fair presentations discovered worldwide. Together with Grand Stand, this publication serves as the definitive source of contemporary stand design. The selection ranges from stands occupying cosy corners to those spanning supersized spaces, all designed and built within the past three years. Volume 1 focuses on small-scale stands and no larger than 500 m² and presents examples of unusually atmospheric design solutions that transcend spatial limitations. Volume 2 concentrates on large-scale stands over 500 m² and features amazing temporary structures crafted to highlight the products and services of major international brands. The design of trade fair stands is growing in importance. Designers play an essential role in lending shape to brand identity through the creation of captivating presentations. Showcased in this book are scores of strikingly successful results. Projects are accompanied by stunning images, in-depth descriptions, company profiles, and blocks of information that include names, locations, materials and other relevant details. Stands are categorized according to theme: interior and architectural products, automotive, electronics, services, food, fashion and beauty, and retail. Grand Stand II deserves a permanent place in the bookcase of every designer, builder, brand manager or other individual with an interest in the elusive environments we call trade fair stands.--Publisher's website.

Design of a Steel Grand-Stand (Classic Reprint) Leonard Mael,2017-10-27 Excerpt from Design of a Steel Grand-Stand This allows the building of a running track around the field, which is visible only to those in the lower deck. It is probable that this would not cause any inconvenience, because a track-meet seldom attracts as large a crowd as a football game. The main floor of the stand is 555 feet long, 62 feet deep, and rises to a height of so fast. It is supported by columns spaced 16 feet apart, longitudinally, and 14 feet 7 inches, transversely. The upper deck forms the front half of the roof, which extends the full length of the main floor, and is 70 feet wide. It is supported by transverse trusses, spaced 16 feet apart, which are in turn supported by longitudinal trusses, each 66 feet long. This arrangement reduces to a minimum the number of columns obstructing the lower deck. The slope of the seats in the upper deck is two in three, thus making the highest part of the stand about 53 feet above the base of the columns. A Space 18 inches by 51 inches is allowed for each person. The aisles, which are 53 feet apart, are 52 inches wide for the first 12 tiers of seats in the lower deck, and 34 inches for the remaining 12 tiers and the upper deck. This makes the capacity of the main floor 4680 and that of the upper deck 2600, a total of 7280. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Under The Grandstand Jim Lyons,2013-02-06 Those who have lived – not just witnessed - the efflorescence of a pivotal culture moment never see the world through veiled eyes again. Jimmy Lyons was there, devising wholly original inventions of words and music while the Beats, the neo-folk troubadours, the post-bop jazz shooting stars, and the tie-dyed psychedelic rockers were scorching through the underbrush and opening new paths of creativity as alternatives to the increasingly bottom line-driven mainstream. Lyons, though, wasn't content to find a niche in one countercultural movement or another. He kept moving, observing, and writing new poems, stories, and songs. But he never gave up on the wry sophistication of the classic American popular song. Indeed, he has dedicated himself to infusing the same hallowed forms perfected by Irving Berlin, George and Ira Gershwin, Cole Porter, Harold Arlen, and others, with his singular fantasias of ingeniously colored and textured wordplay. These plays have a subtext only Lyons can provide, derived from what he calls the “rituals of the road” and the “the circular rhythms” of the race track, the beats and pulses of everyday American life that rarely raise a ripple on the surface of American culture. Lyons hears the screams and dreams of his countrymen and woman; from them he creates new modes of expression. He has been changed by each of his open-hearted and open-eared encounters, and this body of work is his way of making those changes sing and swing. – Derk Richardson

Design for a Steel Grand-Stand Charles E. Rapp,2017-10-26 Excerpt from Design for a Steel Grand-Stand: Thesis The object of this thesis is to design a steel grandstand for Illinois Field, University of Illinois, which shall have a seating capacity between five thousand and five thousand five hundred people.' The field is very level and no contour map need be made. Since the gridiron is 330 feet long, a stand will be designed for a length of 250 feet. With this length and seating capacity, the grand-stand Will be designed so that a portion of the seats are on the roof.
