Recommendations and Strategies for IRP Truck Licensing Impacts for Ohio Counties Andrew Martin,2017 Ohio local officials are concerned about IRP revenue shortfalls. County governments and taxing districts do not receive enough IRP revenue to fix pavement damage caused by commercial vehicles on local roads. Researchers determined this situation stems from a combination of Ohio's IRP distribution process and the growing phenomenon of jurisdiction shopping, which occurs when companies register trucks in an IRP jurisdiction that is not the vehicle's primary domicile location. In Phase II of this research, the research team evaluated six strategies to mitigate the impacts of jurisdiction shopping: (1) voluntary registration repatriation, (2) a domiciled vehicle voucher system, (3) redistribution of the IRP annual excess, (4) increased motor vehicle permissive tax, (5) increase IRP registration fees, and (6) a dedicated revenue stream. The implementation plan developed by the research team shows that the dedicated revenue stream has the fewest challenges and the most upside. Marketing and web design strategies should complement the state's efforts to reform the IRP distribution process, as these can enhance Ohio's IRP registration process.

Assessment of International Registration Plan Truck Licensing for Ohio Counties Andrew Martin,Mark Bell,James Bryan Gibson,Jennifer R. Walton,2015 Ohio officials are concerned with the disconnect causing an IRP revenue shortfall. County governments and taxing districts are not given enough IRP revenue to correct the amount of pavement damage caused by commercial vehicles on local roads. Researchers determined the disconnect stems from a combination of Ohio's IRP distribution process and the growing phenomenon of jurisdiction shopping, which is where companies register trucks in an IRP jurisdiction that is not the vehicle's primary domicile location. Doing this saves the company money on non-IRP taxes and fees. Although IRP fees are still apportioned based on miles traveled, the money is distributed to counties and taxing districts differently than if the vehicle was registered in Ohio. Currently, there are more than 20,000 vehicles belonging to a company with a primary address in Ohio, but registered in another jurisdiction. The result is significant revenue impacts on Ohio counties, municipalities, and townships. In 2015, we predict the direct and indirect impacts will be $10.13 million for counties, $2.89 million for municipalities, and $684,997 for townships. The cumulative effect for all counties and taxing districts is as much as $13.7 million, although the true impact is potentially higher when additional factors are taken into account.

Beethoven Edmund Morris,2005-10-04 Ludwig van Beethoven (1770-1827) was a genius so universal that his popularity, extraordinary even during his lifetime, has never ceased to grow. It now encircles the globe: Beethoven's most famous works are as beloved in Beijing as they are in Boston. Edmund Morris, the author of three bestselling presidential biographies and a lifelong devotee of Beethoven, brings the great composer to life as a man of astonishing complexity and overpowering intelligence. A gigantic, compulsively creative personality unable to tolerate constraints, he was not so much a social rebel as an astute manipulator of the most powerful and privileged aristocrats in Germany and Austria, at a time when their world was threatened by the rise of Napoleon Bonaparte. But Beethoven's achievement rests in his immortal music. Struggling against progressive, incurable deafness (which he desperately tried to keep secret), he nonetheless produced towering masterpieces, such as his iconic Fifth and Ninth symphonies. With sensitivity and insight, Edmund Morris illuminates Beethoven's life, including his interactions with the women he privately lusted for but held at bay, and his work, whose grandeur and beauty were conceived on the other side of silence.

Installation Restoration Program (IRP). Site S-5 Remedial Investigation. Volume I. ,1992 Site S-5 is located behind Building 1618 along the eastern side of the Kelly AFB Flightline. An aqua-fuels system, which is believed to be the major source of contamination at Site S-5, is located in the vicinity of Building 1617. Petroleum products stored in the Building 1617 fuel farm included aviation gasoline (Avgas), jet fuel, control unit calibrating fluid, and waste oils. Potentially, any of these fluids could have been released from the tanks and associated piping systems during the operation of the facility. Currently, all eight tanks are empty and located to prevent any further use. A site characterization study and remedial investigation was conducted in two phases at Site S-5 to assess the type and extent of soil and groundwater contamination at the site. Several volatile organics, dissolved lead, and petroleum hydrocarbons were detected in groundwater samples. Analytical results for Phase 2 were generally lower than those for Phase 1.
