Magda Jozsa

King Neptune Larry Buttrose,1992 Collection of short non-fiction tales from the travels of the author and his friends through Asia, the Middle East, Europe and the Pacific. The eccentric and bizarre predominate. The author is a Sydney-based poet, playwright and screenwriter.

When Earl Was King Neptune Dayton Lummis,2006-08 WHEN EARL WAS KING NEPTUNE is a keenly insightful account of the author's family, and of his personal experiences, observations and intersections with people, places and events in the last half of the 20th century in the Northeast portion of the United States. His story is told with great interpretative skill, wit and occasional humor and at times considerable cynicism. Part history, sociology and biography, the people, places and events, along with the author's sharp personal observations, that make up When Earl Was King Neptune, will stay with the reader long after the book is finished and put aside. They are of the life and mind before cyberspace took control

A Friend of King Neptune Wm. Stage,2023-05-20 1991 ST LOUIS - Leo Kraszewski aka Dingus has come to visit his old army pal, Francis Lenihan, now a busy process server. It's been 18 years but Dingus is still the same-impulsive, foolish, quick with a wisecrack, uncouth yet worldly. Dingus leans on Francis to accompany him to Southern Illinois, the town of Bunting, where spoils from World War II may lie hidden in a peculiar private museum. Francis declines and soon, after causing trouble in Francis' intemperate world, Dingus finds himself hitchhiking in the Illinois cornfields. It's a journey of wonder as he encounters tornadoes, a suicidal Indian, a malevolent sheriff's deputy, a crew of offbeat characters who call an unusual restaurant their clubhouse, and the memory of a once-famous pig.The story has legs as Dingus aka Hercules is given a labor by Anselm, the museum's curator and a stand-in for King Eurystheus of yore, to retrieve a stolen historical artifact. Dingus does Anselm's bidding at a dear price, but of course it's never enough. Meanwhile Dingus' court date for cannabis distribution looms. Will Francis find a lawyer for his penniless friend? Will Dingus uncover the treasure? And, more importantly, will he shed the itchy curse put on him by an unseen force? Throw in a junior detective - the next Nancy Drew, a shaman fired from his teaching position at the community college, a formidable hermit whose solitude is rudely interrupted, a contemptuous rapper and his entourage, a cast of regulars at Murphy's Tavern in Dogtown, and you have an enthralling narrative, a comedic chronicle that will have you turning page after page.

Time with King Neptune's Family Neridah Gibbons,2018-12-13 This little book is about time - our treasured time, our gift of life. It is about the time we have with our children and how we keep balance with everything else in our lives. Time only moves forward; it does not slow down. We have to balance our lives around it. Our children are so important in this time of ours. I know because I am a mother of three lovely daughters and a grandmother to seven amazing grandchildren. I have balanced my time well in the past, and I am very grateful. A balanced life of time means quality life shared and spent for ourselves and our partner, children, parents, friends, animals, home, and more. There is a lot of balancing that we do. Our children need our special time, love, and guidance because they are our future and our world. In my little book, you will meet King Neptune's family with two new members, the dugong and the sunfish. They are going to show you their special times. As you meet each character, they will bring a smile to your children's face.

The Marriage of Miss Hollywood and King Neptune Robert Schenkkan, 2004 Hollywood, 1929. Sly-as-a-fox talent agent Manny Weisenberg has got a problem. Several. His biggest client, Bob Whiplash McCord -- a British classical actor trapped playing a silent cowboy hero -- wants out of his contract. Manny's girlfriend Cherie, an aspiring actress, wants out of LA. And local gangster Joey Bananas wants to break Manny's legs for default of certain debts. Manny's solution is to create the greatest seaside pageant ever seen: The Marriage of Miss Hollywood and King Neptune. A screwball comedy à la Kaufman and Hart, set against the backdrop of early Hollywood and classic LA political corruption.

King Neptune's Delite Gita V. Reddy, 2015-03-27 In a tiny fishing village in India, Maya finds a bottle with a diamond ring, a newspaper cutting, and a blank paper. She, her brother and their two friends piece together the clues. It is a distress signal from someone aboard a ship. Instead of going to a grownup or the police, the children decide to go to the rescue of the prisoner and enter dangerous territory.

Neptune King and the Gallant Thief Magda Jozsa, 2014-07-01 Neptune King and the Gallant Thief is the 23rd and latest book in the Neptune King series. A charity function that the Kings are attending is robbed by a dozen shotgun-wielding men led by a charismatic character calling himself Robin Hood. Robin makes an exception of Neptune and Rachel by not robbing them, citing their generosity to an old beggar outside the venue as his reason. At first Neptune is disinclined to go after him, especially when he learns that Robin is actually giving the proceeds to the poor, and even has a grudging admiration for the man for his proficiency in the art of disguise. However when aspersion is cast on his reputation and comments are made that he wasn't robbed because he was connected to Robin, he realizes he has no choice but to catch the thief for the sake of his business and reputation. Using his own considerable skills he goes in under cover to the East End as an elderly vagrant and soon picks up some information on Robin and his gang. He also learns that Robin is perhaps not quite as altruistic as he appears, as the poor are only receiving a very small percentage of the take. When one of Robin's men is found dead after casting doubts about Robin's integrity and motives, Neptune is even more determined to apprehend him. Neptune and Milo

Washington (their employee in charge of insurance investigations) infiltrate Robin's gang, while Shark, with the help of his dog, Fang, set about recovering the missing jewels. Together, they set a trap for Robin, once again showing why K & J Investigations is not a firm to be messed with.

Neptune's Visit Jan Page, Mellie Buse, 2007 In this unique and classic television series, five wonderful puppets tell imaginative stories for young children aged between 2 and 5 years. King Neptune is coming to visit and the creatures under the sea are all aflutter! How will they entertain his highness? Morva the mermaid (Florrie) is especially worried as she doesn't think she has any special talents. After all, Crab can recite poetry, the little fish can dance, but what can she do? She soon discovers she has a wonderful singing voice, and learns that everybody has their own special gift - we just have to be encouraged to find it!

Neptune King and the Mysterious Monk Magda Jozsa, 2016-10-09 Neptune King and the Mysterious Monk is the 27th book in the series. They're hired by Friar Luigi, a Capuchin monk from a monastery in Devon. Ever since a collection of rare books, diaries and manuscripts arrived at the monastery there has been strange goings on in the night. Each morning they find the library in disarray; the books scattered about or misplaced and sometimes strange noises in the night. When they go to investigate they find nothing and no one. This is puzzling enough, causing some of the monks to believe there is a poltergeist in their midst, but when elderly Friar Matteo is found dead at the foot of the stairs, his skull stove in, Friar Luigi suspects foul play. He travels to London to enlist Neptune and Shark's aid, which they are more than happy to offer free of charge. Neptune is ecstatic at this opportunity to disguise himself as a monk and go under cover in the monastery as Friar Benedict, while Shark backs him as a carpenter doing necessary repairs to the ancient monastery. He brings his dog Fang along with him, who turns out to be a great hit with the monks and useful too as they put him in the library overnight. They have a couple of suspects - two of the newly arrived monks and when one of them presents the next morning with a torn robe and Fang has a piece of a robe in his mouth, that monk goes to the top of the list, although Neptune has doubts as to his guilt. When an attempt is made on Luigi's life, they double their attempt to find the culprit in no doubt at all that Friar Matteo's death was murder. A new suspect emerges after they prove he lied and Shark telephones Neptune's wife, Rachel to get her to undertake a background check on him. That's held up when Rachel collapses and is found unconscious in her office by Milo, one of their employees. Neptune rushes back to London to be by her side, learning that she had a very close call and that both she and the baby were at risk of dying. With treatment Rachel improves but is ordered to rest at home and to do nothing strenuous that could put her blood pressure up until the baby is born, which much to Rachel's dismay is not for another six months. Neptune doesn't want to return to the case, but Rachel insists upon it. He's a little distracted with worry and not at his best; despite that they still manage to solve a 160 year old mystery of missing Papal jewels and catch the killer but not without risk to life and limb when they're entombed in the labyrinth of underground tunnels that start from the ossuary at the monastery.

King Neptune's Delite Gita Reddy, 2013-05-30 The story starts in a tiny fishing village in Kerala, India. Maya finds a bottle with a diamond ring, a newspaper cutting, and a blank paper. She, her brother and their two friends put together these clues and guess someone, probably aboard a ship, had sent out a signal for help. The children, who have lost their fishermen fathers in a cyclone, work for the owner of a Curios shop. They pick the beach for shells, drift wood, sea glass and anything of value the sea brings. Maya is the youngest in the group but she is the practical and sensible one. However, the dazzling find, the appearance of muscled, tattooed Swamy, his suspicious way and above all, the call of adventure makes even Maya reckless. Instead of going to a grownup or the police, the children decide to go to the rescue of the prisoner. Their quest takes them to the harbor town of Cochin, aboard the ship, 'King Neptune's Delite' and into danger with men for whom bloodshed is a game. The story has adventure and humor too. Excerpts 1. Give it to me, Jacob said, reaching out but before he could take it from Satish, the ring slipped and fell down and a larger than usual wave washed against them, covering them to their knees. No! They stood still, shocked by the suddenness and watched the wave returning, dragging into the sea whatever it wished to reclaim. Don't move! Maya ordered. She waited for the wave to recede and stared hard at the smooth wet sandy surface. Another wave was fast approaching. Maya, let's all look! Satish said and his voice, which usually came out as a loud bellow, was low and strained. Maya held up her hand, holding them back. She bent down and even as the fresh wave splashed against her, scooped up sand from a spot with both hands and held it tightly. She walked well away from the edge to where the sand was dry and the waves would not come. The boys followed. Maya slowly uncurled her fingers and they stared at the ball of wet sand she held. I knew it! It's gone! Satish bellowed. Maya ignored Satish and gently tapped at the sand. It crumbled to reveal the diamond ring, brilliant and shining. 2. Satish placed everything except the item under 'other'. Like Jacob, he too had a fair share of discards. What else did you bring? Maya asked. I told you to look for something that Moosa chettan can use. Satish was looking uncomfortable and a little hesitant. He took out something wrapped in a piece of newspaper from his bag. All of them, Abbas included, leaned forward to have a look. Satish's finds, though rarely of use to Moosa, were varied and interesting. This time too he did not disappoint. Everyone gazed at the set of false teeth Satish had brought. The silence lasted for a minute; Satish looking hopefully at Moosa and everyone, including Moosa, trying not to look at Satish. A suppressed laugh broke the silence and soon everyone was hooting with laughter. Moosa had tears running down his cheek. What, he asked, wiping his eyes, do you want me to do with this? You can use it in something. .... I checked, it's a whole set. You can make a face and stick the teeth in it... Or I can wait for a toothless man to visit our beach and sell it to him. 3. There was the sound of footsteps and Raju rushed to crouch in one corner of the cabin. It was Swamy. He smiled and said, Raju, you're doing a good job. Did Matt scare you? Don't think anything of it. He has to keep his sister in check that way. In the same soft voice, switching over to English, Swamy told Shirley, I like Matt's plan. I think it will work. What plan? It's already working. You're speaking to me. The plan of killing the boy, of course. Why will I sign if you kill the boy? As soon as I sign, you'll kill me. I value my life more than that of this boy. This boy and other children too. You will not be able to watch; Matt enjoys such activities, believe me, you will not be able to watch, Swamy said in a cold voice which made Raju shiver.

WELCOME TO OLLI'S UNDERSEA WORLD Book I Renate Schalk Schreiner, 2020-04-30

Neptune King and the Super Hero Magda Jozsa, 2017-12-08 Super Heroes, Super Sleuths and Super villains all come together in Neptune King and the Super Hero, the 30th book in the Neptune King series. Neptune and Shark are rather nonplussed when a man bounds into their office clad in a homemade super hero costume, cape and all and offers his services to help them fight crime. Shark thinks it's a joke, Neptune thinks it is ridiculous and tells him where to go. They think that is the last they will see of him, but to Neptune's annoyance he turns up just as he is about to apprehend a thief and interferes with the capture. Again Neptune puts him in his place in no uncertain terms. Undaunted, the self-styled super hero perseveres wanting to prove Neptune and Shark wrong. Neptune's fear that he would come up against someone truly dangerous as opposed to the bag snatchers and lechers whom he had been dealing with eventuates and he reaches out to them again in desperation after he ends up in hospital severely beaten with multiple fractures and injuries. He has information on Neptune and Shark's nemesis, the super villain Sir Reginald Simpson whom they know is guilty of the murders of Percival Jones and Albert Seinfeld and whom they were unable to arrest due to lack of evidence (see The Supernatural Cases of Neptune King). Simpson is extremely rich, dangerous and untouchable and hobnobs with the lawmakers and elite of society. With the hapless super hero incapacitated, Neptune and Shark take over and using his information set out to bring Simpson down, with a little help from a demoted disgruntled ex-chief inspector from Scotland Yard who owed his demotion and the destruction of his marriage to Simpson.

Neptune's Children Bonnie Dobkin, 2011-10-01 A day at the fabled amusement park Isles of Wonder turns deadly when a world-wide biological attack kills every adult, leaving behind only the kids to fend for themselves. Isolated from the world, unsure of what lies ahead, the young survivors assemble under the statue of King Neptune, the mythical ruler of the Isles, to form a new society. Led by the children of the park workers, they choose to remain closed off from the outside world living relatively comfortably inside the self-contained park. But when violence from the infested outside world appears to infiltrate their safe zone, one small group discovers a secret society and a hidden system of underground tunnels, and the stage is set for a war that will determine the future of everyone on the Isles. As alliances are formed and broken, readers will find themselves taking sides in this suspenseful adventure story that addresses the duality of human nature.

The Friends of Neptune King Magda Jozsa,2013 This is the 10th book in the Neptune King series. In The Case of the Amnesiac Client Neptune's maid introduces him to Mary North a troubled young woman working as a maid with no memory and a vague impression that everything is not quite right. He figures it's a case for K&J. Intrigue, deception and imposters lead them to France and back again to high society in search for her real identity. In The Case of the French Blackmailer, Shark's sins come back to haunt him when Monique, the French waitress he met while on the trail of the Shadow in France turns up with a baby, claiming it is his and threatening to tell Lord Evans unless he pays. Shark is shocked and desperate and turns to Neptune for help, while hoping to keep the whole sordid affair secret from Rachel and Becky, but he underestimates the women in his life. In The Case of the Deadly Sleepwalker Lisa Hatherly is arrested for murdering her neighbour in her sleep! Philip Briton, Neptune's solicitor hires the boys to investigate. The evidence looks black against her—her footprints in the snow to and from the dead woman's house, the dead woman's jewels hidden in her wardrobe and her own admission that she'd had an argument with the deceased and was sleep walking that night with her soaked slippers matching the prints. Neptune's boutique is being robbed in The Case of the Shoplifting Shop Assistant, and it doesn't take him long to find the culprit. Meantime, Shark's family have arrived from Australia in time to celebrate Christmas with his friends in his new house.

Introducing Neptune King Magda Jozsa,2013-10-08 This book is the first in a series set in the 1960's, which introduces ex-Oxford professor Neptune King who always dreamed of being a detective greater than his fictional hero, Sherlock Holmes. When Neptune's wealthy aunt dies and leaves him her fortune, he finally has a chance to realize his dream. He hires handsome blond-haired Australia hunk, Shark Bateman Johnson as his assistant and the shy green-eyed, redhead, Rachel Green as his secretary and sets out to solve any cases that come his way. These range from a strangely immobile stepmother to drug runners, murderers, embezzlers, German spies and even ventures into the vicious competitive world of ballroom dancing. Neptune's deductions amaze, Shark's strength and courage delight and Rachel's charm enamours, as the three quickly become close friends in their quest to become the best private investigative firm in the country.

The Adventures of Neptune King Magda Jozsa,2013 In this the third book in the Neptune King series, Neptune's mettle is tested as he crosses paths with the international jewel thief known only as The Shadow. Twice he bests him only to win the Shadow's enmity and the war of nerves begins. Neptune lives in fear as his loved ones—friends and family are targeted. An attempt is made to abduct Rachel, and Shark is assaulted, then his brother-in-law is seriously injured in a hit and run. As a coup de grace Shark and Neptune's sister Mermaid are kidnapped. He doesn't hesitate to pay the exorbitant ransom, but is doublecrossed by the Shadow who tries to kill him. The tension rises as Neptune and Rachel begin a desperate bid to find Shark and the heavily pregnant Mermaid before their time runs out. The suspense and fast paced action in this book will have you o the edge of your seat.
