The Cardinal June Osborne,2010-07-22 This informative guide follows a year in the life of the Northern Cardinal with evocative text and gorgeous color photography. Author June Osborne and photographer Barbara Garland capture the beauty and intrigue of this striking songbird. They describe how cardinals stake out territory and choose mates, find a nesting site, and incubate their eggs, feed the young and prepare them for full-fledged independence. The Cardinal also explores the special relationship that humans have with their favorite redbirds. Osborne traces the symbolic use of cardinals as state birds and athletic mascots and shows how they appear on everything from postage stamps to Christmas cards, as well as in fine art, literature, and Native American folklore.

Naked Orphan Joan Parker Macreynolds,2018-03-10 The Naked Orphan is a story about nature and family. True events and imagination combine to tell the story of a baby bird blown out of its nest just three days after hatching. The bird is rescued and cared for by thirteen-year-old, Emma Grace, who is visiting her grandparents on their small farm 30 miles east of Nashville, Tennessee. The baby bird can neither see nor peep. It has no feathers. It's a naked orphan. Emma names the baby bird Puccini, in honor of a famous Italian opera composer. Emma has only three weeks to raise the bird before she goes home. A local veterinarian tells her how to save Puccini. He believes the orphan is a Northern Cardinal. She reads books about Cardinal behavior, and learns that the male Cardinal is the only bird that adopts baby birds and shows them how to care for themselves. Days before Emma must go home, the baby is adopted by a male Cardinal. When Puccini leaves his adopted father, he unknowingly becomes a catalyst that affects the lives of several people. Sam and his friend Mike are high school Juniors looking forward to a summer cross-country bicycle trip to Nashville with their soccer coach. However, the coach breaks a leg which ends their adventure. Sam's parents won't let him travel without adult supervision. Depressed and angry, Sam seeks peace in a small forest. Laying against a tree, Sam watches a beetle making its way on the forest floor. As he ponders the life and freedom of a beetle, but then Puccini swoops down and snatches the bug. Sam is shocked by this, but it illustrates to him the dangers of two young people traveling alone. Mr. Ulrich is a mean and grouchy old man, but he loves to feed the song birds. Next door lives Carrie with her parents and Lily the cat. Puccini's first nesting was on Mr. Ulrich's property, and Mr. Ulrich spends time mostly chasing Lily from his yard. Carrie and her friends fear the wrath of Mr. Ulrich. But Carrie is surprised to learn that he and his wife used to be good friends of Carries parents. Then his wife died, and he went into seclusion and meanness. Carrie eventually overcomes her fear, and makes contact with Mr. Ulrich, which leads to a renewed friendship. Doug is the captain and highest scorer of the high school soccer team, yet he is terribly shy when it comes to Zoey, a girl he would like to know better. But he can't muster the courage to speak to her. One morning, while eating pizza outside with his aged grandfather, they spot

Puccini courting a female Cardinal. She leads him on a chase through the trees surrounding Doug's house. He never gives up until she accepts the food he offers her. Although grandpa can barely communicate, he is able to tell Doug to Work up some guts. Doug takes Puccini's example and approaches Zoey in school. This leads to warm friendship between the two. A tornado blows Puccini from his bush to the Nashville International Airport. Dazed and soaked, he gets into the air terminal and crawls beneath a restaurant table where two pilots are eating. Puccini manages to fly into the pocket of the copilot's rain coat hanging on a chair. The pocket is warm and contains several wrapped saltine crackers. Puccini eats his fill of crackers and goes to sleep. He awakes to find himself in the Arlanda International Airport in Stockholm, Sweden. He flies north to Uppsala an old university town. Johanna, the daughter of university professors, is the first to spot Puccini. Bird watchers come to see this strange red bird who sings. But eventually, he stops singing. Johanna knows the bird will neither survive winter nor find a mate in Sweden. An official in the American embassy arranges for Puccini to fly back home, not as a stowaway but as a guest in a comfortable cage. Within minutes of being released in Nashville, Puccini uses his internal GPS to find his way back to the small farm where his adventures began.

Do you know that Cardinals are the only bird with a crest in the United States? And do you know that every little habit of this little bird can become a story to tell? It is sometimes difficult to make our children understand the beauty of nature, to make them appreciate the small things, the beauty of a flower, the freshness of the air, the scent of grass. Many times we are not fortunate to be in contact with nature, far from a meadow, closed in the cities, but so often while being able to look out from our balcony in a beautiful country house, we know how to observe but do not appreciate the beauty of creation. Know the details and habits of a bird as common as it is surprising, through a simple path and that fuels the interest and curiosity of your child. That's the purpose of this book. But beware, prepare for the challenge! You will have to be able to answer the questions that your child will ask you by showing off their deep knowledge in the microworld of the Cardinals: -Mom, do you know the states where the Cardinal is the state bird? I do! -Hey dad, do you know if both male and female Cardinals sing? I do! -Grandpa, do you know how much a Cardinals weighs? I do! -Grandma, do you know how many eggs Cardinals lay in their nest? I do! -Sarah, you're my big sister and you've studied a lot, but I bet you don't know the Cardinals favorite seed! I know that. You don't need anything else, just one click on Buy Now and you will let your child live a magical new adventure with his new friend Cardinals and the magic natural world of songbirds.

Birds of Nebraska Roger S. Sharpe, W. Ross Silcock, Joel G. Jorgensen, 2001-01-01 Nebraska sits at the nexus of continental bird migration and serves as a home?either permanently or seasonally?for nearly 450 species. Major migratory routes pass through the state, creating numerous opportunities to observe the great variety of North American bird species. The annual crane migrations in spring are legendary, and other key events include winter concentrations of bald eagles, flocks of up to thirty thousand grebes, mergansers, and gulls at Lake McConaughy in late fall, and incredible concentrations of waterfowl in the Rainwater Basin in early spring. ØBirds of Nebraska captures the variety of Nebraska's ornithological possibilities in a style useful to hobbyists and professionals alike. For the first time in Nebraska ornithology, the authors have provided an exhaustive summary of state bird records compiled into concise but readable accounts of all species of birds reported in the state. This work covers taxonomy, early and late migration dates, high counts, nesting areas, and likely viewing locations.

Bringing Back the Birds American Bird Conservancy, 2019 Foreword by Jonathan Franzen Original poem by Margaret Atwood With species ranging from tiny iridescent-green hummingbirds to giant, gangly flightless rheas, the Americas feature an astonishing array of birds that rely upon the region's tremendous diversity of habitats. That reliance may be very localized or it may reach across continents: Swainson's Thrushes travel from South America all the way to Alaska, while certain grebes spend their entire lives on a single lake. Treasured songbirds feed at northern backyard feeders yet often arrive from points far to the south. The American Bird Conservancy (ABC) works across the Americas with a goal to have birds routinely prioritized in all land-use and policy decision-making. Bringing Back the Birds showcases these efforts, alongside the stunning photography of Owen Deutsch and eloquent essays from renowned experts in the field: Peter P. Marra, Smithsonian Migratory Bird Center; researchers Kimberly and Kenn Kaufman; John W. Fitzpatrick, Cornell Lab of Ornithology; and Mike Parr, EJ Williams, and Clare Nielsen of ABC.

Cardinals James E. Gerholdt, 1997 Describes the physical characteristics, habits, and natural habitat of this brightly colored bird which can be easily identified by the crest on the top of its head.

Catholic Social Teaching and Theologies of Peace in Northern Ireland Maria Power, 2020-07-07 This book investigates the response of the Catholic Church in Northern Ireland to the conflict in the region during the late Twentieth Century. It does so through the prism of the writings of Cardinal Cahal Daly (1917-2009), the only member of the hierarchy to serve as a bishop throughout the entire conflict. This book uses the prolific writings of Cardinal Daly to create a vision of the 'Peaceable Kingdom' and demonstrate how Catholic social teaching has been used to promote peace, justice and nonviolence. It also explores the public role of the Catholic Church in situations of violence and conflict, as well as the importance for national churches in developing a voice in the public square. Finally, the book offers a reflection on the role of Catholic social teaching in contemporary society and the ways in which the lessons of Northern Ireland can be utilised in a world where structural violence, as evidenced by austerity, and reactions to Brexit in the United Kingdom, is now the norm. This work challenges and changes the nature of the debate surrounding the role of the Catholic Church in the conflict in Northern Ireland. It will, therefore, be a key resource for scholars of Religious Studies, Catholic Theology, Religion and Violence, Peace Studies, and Twentieth Century History.
