To Thee We Do Cry Pat Monahan,2010-11-24 In what was the most devastating event of their lives, Tom and Pat Monahan lost their nine-year-old grandson, Tommy, in a house fire in December of 2007. This unimaginable tragedy rocked their lives with pain and sorrow beyond description, of a kind and strength they had never dreamed of. As a way of dealing with this unspeakable grief, Pat Monahan practiced what she preached as a professional bereavement counselor: she began journaling her feelings to work through the pain. Following the depression that comes with grief, she realized that this process was a major key to lifting her depression. In hopes of helping others whose faith has been shattered following the loss of a loved one, Pat presents her recorded thoughts and struggles in To Thee We Do Cry. She describes the impact her grandson Tommy's life and death had on the entire community of Staten Island; she also emphasizes the importance of coping with the struggle with spirituality while faced with such trauma. In the end, it is faith that will guide someone suffering from a loss back to living a full life once more.

Love Never Ends Pat Monahan,2019-01-04 Pat Monahan wrote her second book Love Never Ends hoping it will help others who have lost a loved one to death. Her nine year old grandson Tommy died in a house fire trying to rescue his dog Sophie. Following Tommy's death Pat published her first book To Thee We Do Cry - A Grandmother's Journey Through Grief. That book described the impact that Tommy's life and death had on the community of Staten Island. Love Never Ends describes the many signs her family continues to experience since his death. We believe that the deceased can send signs to us, letting us know they are OK and that they are here for us in a spiritual way. These signs bring great comfort to the bereaved. As a Bereavement Minister Pat recognizes the signs can be a major key to acceptance. Pat hopes to shed some light in the darkness of grief.
