This transformative and inspiring story is designed to build self-confidence and encourages self-esteem, while tackling the difficult issues of racism, discrimination, inclusion and bullying. No one knows how one little peacock egg ended up hatching in the nest of wild turkeys, but everyone, including Pepe, believes he is a turkey. Pepe doesn't look like anyone around him, and even though he is loved and supported by his family, he is teased and bullied by others because he looks...different. After a period of exploration, Pepe discovers his self-confidence and most importantly, that his value isn't determined by outward appearances, but rather by the content of his character. This timeless tale raises questions about bullying, inclusion, discrimination, and the importance of being true to yourself. Join Pepe, as he seeks to discover the missing pieces to his own life's story, the power of courage and self-respect, the secret of how to stop the bullies who tease him, the importance of unity within the community and what it truly means to belong. EXAMPLE PAGES: Pepe looked closer than ever, Hoping he'd finally see more, And even though he was still the same, He saw things he'd not seen before! His feathers weren't brown, And his neck wasn't red, And he still had those feathers, On top of his head, But now he saw strength and courage too, Made no difference his feathers were blue, It all came from somewhere, deep down inside. My family was right! Pepe joyfully cried!
