El escultor Bartomeu de Robio y Lleida Francesca Español,1995-06-14 Visión exhaustiva del artista Bartomeu de Robio, no sólo a través del trabajo realizado en la ornamentación de la Catedral de Lleida, base principal del estudio que presentamos, sino incidiendo en otras obras también notables que la autora del libro le atribuye justificadamente, a partir de una innegable vinculación del maestro escultor al arte italiano del Trecentos.

Return to Childhood Laylá Abū Zayd,1998 Leila Abouzeid, whose novel Year of the Elephant has gone through six reprintings, has now translated her childhood memoir into English. Published in Rabat in 1993 to critical acclaim, the work brings to life the interlocking dramas of family ties and political conflict. Against a background of Morocco's struggle for independence from French colonial rule, Abouzeid charts the development of personal relationships, between generations as well as between husbands and wives. Abouzeid's father is a central figure; as a strong advocate of Moroccan nationalism, he was frequently imprisoned by the French and his family forced to flee the capital. Si Hmed was a public hero, but the young daughter's memories of her famous father and of the family's plight because of his political activities are not so idyllic. The memoir utilizes multiple voices, especially those of women, in a manner reminiscent of the narrative strategies of the oral tradition in Moroccan culture. Return to Childhood may also be classified as an autobiography, a form only now gaining respect as a valid literary genre in the Middle East. Abouzeid's own introduction and Elizabeth Fernea's foreword discuss this new development in Arabic literature.
