The Rokudo Rounds 3 Serina Oda,2022-07-26 Round one of the Rokudo Tournament, “The Plummetering Hell” begins! The stage: The Fall Garden, an island suspended in midair by Miroku’s powers. Swallowed up in the island’s collapse, En unleashes a full-power Black Lightning to keep his promise to Joe! Meanwhile, an opponent promising trouble for En takes the stage: Iko, a girl he met after the preliminaries. She’s been brainwashed and entered into the fray by her father, who possesses an abnormal fixation with the tournament. En discovers the doll-like, lifeless girl on the crumbling island, and decides then and there to save her from her father!

The Rokudo Rounds 4 Serina Oda,2022-12-27 Iko, you have to change. Iko has been treated by her father like his property for her whole life. In a fight to save her soul, En climbs the ranks and challenges Orca in round one of The Plummetering Hell. But how will he fare when faced with the power of a million concentrated into one in the form of a cyclic release point? Driven into a corner in the depths of Hell, En must undergo a radical change to keep going and stay conscious...

The Rokudo Rounds 1 Serina Oda,2022-05-31 En has no prospects as a child of the slums—he ekes out a living by selling the scrap cyborg augmentations he scavenges to anyone who will buy. But when he's forced to go through some unethical experimentation, he transforms—making him eligible to become a fighter in the only thing that matters in this bleak world: The Rokudo Tournament!

The Rokudo Rounds 2 Serina Oda,2022-06-21 The preliminary round of the Rokudo Tournament, the Worm Crushing Hell, has begun. The rules are simple: Whoever defeats the most foes will make through the gruesome life-or-death battle. Out of the 30,000 participants, only the top 10% will qualify to move on to the main event, so it's time for En to show off what he's learned these past two years. However, a man named Zeku is in the ring, and he's commanding the crowd's attention with the insane number of kills he's racked up. He's even murdered one of the previous champions! Fixated only on the strong, Zeku sneers at the participants' dreams as he cruelly slaughters them. This spurs En to challenge him to a death match!

Islands and Cities in Medieval Myth, Literature, and History Andrea Grafetstätter,Sieglinde Hartmann,James Michael Ogier,2011 The studies presented in this book derive from a series of sessions held at the annual International Medieval Congress in Leeds, UK...Four sessions, held from 2004 to 2006, bore the title 'Islands of the World and the Seven Seas in Medieval Myth and History', and three in 2007 the title 'Cities, Myths and Literatures'...The stated objective of the island sessions was the location of a 'starting point for a new investigation into the possible impact that myths and other fictitious stories about insular wonderlands had on the reasons why medieval men and women undertook their various missions, searches and explorations that finally led to the discovery of the New World.' Brahman Michael Myers,2013-09-13 This book is a critique of western systematic theology. It borrows insights from India and other traditions; it is not a synthesis of religious traditions. The book includes two parts, method and systematics. It examines the traditional topics of systematic theology '- topics such as the existence and nature of God, revelation and reason, religious ethics and human practice, the relation of God to the world, Christology, and eschatology - and allows these topics to grow in conversation with India and to change according to dialogical insights. The book is prompted by a perceived need to cross the boundaries between western and Indian worldviews in a systematic and comprehensive way. The purpose of the book is to enable scholars worldwide to extend their theological resources and to look anew at the problems and prospects of a comparative, systematic theology.

Non-humans in Social Science Karolína Pauknerová,Marco Stella,Petr Gibas,2014-12-01 The book explores the issue of non-humans and their role and position within contemporary social sciences. Inspired by current trends of bridging the dichotomy of nature and culture, the authors use the “non-human” as a prism that offers a different perspective of the world, society, culture, and last but not least, being(s). To start paying attention to nonhumans has the potential to hybridize social sciences and in turn enrich them as well as to offer social scientists novel perspectives and tools to approach social phenomena. Such an attitude might in turn lead to a reassessment of understanding of the relationship between the world and being, and of the categories of being and subject. Hence the potential of non-humans to stimulate an ontological shift within social sciences. The view of the “human” and “non-human” as oppositional categories is a remnant of essentially modernist thinking. This book represents a response in terms of an attempt to think about humans and non-humans outside of the binary division. The authors thus want to contribute to the hybridization of social sciences and throughout the book they deal with ontological, epistemological and thematical shifts stemming from the hybridization. If the non-human does not exist as a negation, the boundary between the two becomes unclear and overlapping. It is with this hybridization, the blurring of the boundaries, that we are able to come closer to those who inhabit the world: non-humans and humans alike.

Japanese Civilization S. N. Eisenstadt, 1996 One of the world's leading social theorists provides a monumental synthesis of Japanese history, religion, culture, and social organization.
