Lives and Landscapes Elmer Harp Jr,2003-05-09 Interested in studying early human activity in the area he came to be equally fascinated with life in outport communities. During the summers of 1949-50 and 1961-63, he explored the coast, travelling from one isolated outport village to the next, initially by open boat and later on rudimentary roads, vividly capturing everyday life in his journals and through his extensive Kodachrome slides. In her introduction Priscilla Renouf places Harp's story of rural northern Newfoundland in historical and anthropological context. She notes that there are economic and cultural continuities from prehistoric times to the present and shows that the fundamental structure of outport life based on fishing and hunting remains today.

Facing the Frozen Ocean Bear Grylls,2013-06-06 'An epic story of hardship, friendship and faith.' Daily Telegraph Shortlisted for the William Hill Sports Book of the Year Award, this is the compelling account of the most recent adventure of the bestselling author of Facing Up. It started out as a carefully calculated attempt to complete the first unassisted crossing of the frozen north Atlantic in an open rigid inflatable boat, but it became a terrifying battle against storm-force winds, crashing waves and icebergs as large as cathedrals. Starting from the remote north Canadian coastline, Bear Grylls and his crew crossed the infamous Labrador Sea, pushed on through ice-strewn waters to Greenland and then found themselves isolated in a perfect storm 400 miles from Iceland. Compelling, vivid and inspirational, Facing the Frozen Ocean will appeal to all Bear Grylls' many readers and win him many more.

Just Around the Corner Yvonne Rumbolt-Jones,2024-10-15 The intimate memoir of the longest serving woman politician in Newfoundland, a Indigenous survivor of child sexual abuse, an alcoholic family, a broken marriage, the grief of losing a child and a brother, and cancer. Twice. Just Around the Corner is the story of Member of Parliament for Labrador Yvonne Rumbolt-Jones, an Indigenous girl from a Norther community who broke free of her geographic and political isolation to embrace opportunity in the world. It is the story of a woman who refuses to let the scars of the past define her, but rather to help her grow and understand that while we may not control the events that cause us great harm in life, we do control how we move forward, how we use those events to make ourselves stronger, more forgiving, and grateful for new days. Rumbolt- Jones writes with confidence and candor about overcame the confusion and hurt of being child victim of sexual abuse, many dark days of grief and loss, as well as the stigma of being raised in an impoverished and alcoholic home to become a strong leader and voice for not only Canada's North, but women and Indigenous peoples.

The Legend of Lightning & Thunder Paula Ikuutaq Rumbolt,2013 In this tale of guilt and consequence, the actions of two children lead them to flee punishment by escaping to the sky as thunder and lightning.

Encounters John C. Kennedy,2015-05-01 Part anthropological history, part informed critique, Encounters examines the relations between the people of southeastern Labrador and the many visitors who have come to fish, heal the sick, and extract the region's resources. John Kennedy presents the latest archaeological, genealogical, and ethno-historical research that changes scholarly understandings of southeastern Labrador. Departing from the conventional view that coastal Labrador has distinct Inuit and non-Inuit regions, he argues that the coast should be viewed as a continuum of Inuitness. Encounters unravels the social implications of the region's complex mercantile fishery, describes how twentieth-century military and resource development have impacted Labrador's seasonal economy, and suggests that Newfoundland continues to use Labrador as a colony. Kennedy uses field research he conducted in 2013 to describe the origins, current economies, and future challenges of the region's tiny villages. Although he is a strong supporter of Aboriginal land claims, Kennedy explores the impact of identity politics in the region, showing how land claims based solely on geography can unintentionally create inequities. Drawing on decades of field and archival research, Kennedy demonstrates how Aboriginal politics are transforming society in southeastern Labrador, empowering local people to overcome the stigmas of history and finally acknowledge their Inuit ancestry.
