Ocean Bound Women: Sisters Sailing Around The World In The 1880s - The Adventures-the Ship-the People Anders

Hallengren,2022-10-06 Ocean Bound Women is an intriguing first-hand narrative of circumnavigating the globe in the 1880s. Based on family documents stored in a seaman's chest, this book provides a scholarly account of the history of the Swedish sailing-ship Atlantic (1876-1911) and her crew.Part of the book is based upon a diary written by a Scandinavian woman, which stands as the uniting text for the years 1885-1887, connecting the reader to all events in the chronicle. Other sources consist of manuscripts, documents and accounts collected from family descendants along with oral traditions and personal memories—all hitherto unpublished.This is a touching life story of two motherless sisters who took on a ship in their teens: a book about life on the oceans and meeting with people of many different nations.

I closed my eyes and fancied myself seated on a bench in the Green Park, watching the sheep browsing round me, and listening to the rumbling of carriages as they passed along Piccadilly. I opened my eyes; the vision fades, and, lo!Nil nisi pontus et aer.However, I plucked up courage, and remained on deck until half-past six, when the gaff-topsail was unbent and the top-mast struck; D---, the sailing-master, anticipating no good from the calm, and the dense fog, which had succeeded a fine wind and cheerful sunshine.Early in the morning, about four o'clock, I was awakened by a good deal of laughing and shuffling of feet on deck, and by an occasional thump, as if a cargo of pumpkins was being taken on board.I leaped out of my berth, and, putting my head above the companion, saw all the men who composed the watch hard at Cruising is a unique way to travel - especially when you reach the end of the Baltic Sea. On the coast of Bothnia lies the small town of Haparanda between Sweden and Finland, the destination of this trip. On our Swedish-built yacht, we sail to the end of the Baltic Sea. We face dramatic and funny experiences on our journey of more than 2200 nautical miles from Hamburg to Haparanda. We visit hidden fishing ports and small archipelagos, but also big cities like Oulu in Finland or Stockholm in Sweden. Instead of anchoring in the archipelagos, we call no less than 70 ports on our journey. This book is travel literature from the perspective aboard a yacht. The reader is accompanied by the character of Mr. Moose, the friendly Scandinavian moose, who likes to swim and has lots of knowledge about sailing in Scandinavia. He can't hold back with his observations and hints. This book contains: -> 15 maps of the route across the Baltic Sea and photos -> the cruise report from Hamburg via Stockholm to the north coast of the Gulf of Bothnia and via the Finnish coast back to the Swedish capital. -> a prologue about cruising with dinghies. -> This is the second expanded edition: Now with stops in Copenhagen, Denmark and Hamburg, Germany.
