Aging of U.S. Air Force Aircraft National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, National Materials Advisory Board, Commission on Engineering and Technical Systems, Committee on Aging of U.S. Air Force Aircraft, 1997-10-30 Many of the aircraft that form the backbone of the U.S. Air Force operational fleet are 25 years old or older. A few of these will be replaced with new aircraft, but many are expected to remain in service an additional 25 years or more. This book provides a strategy to address the technical needs and priorities associated with the Air Force's aging airframe structures. It includes a detailed summary of the structural status of the aging force, identification of key technical issues, recommendations for near-term engineering and management actions, and prioritized near-term and long-term research recommendations.

Modified T-37 Instead of T-46: Impact on Undergraduate Pilot Training ,1986 This paper examines the repercussions on Undergraduate Pilot Training of using a truly modified T-37 instead of the T-46 as Air Training Command's next generation trainer. The performance deficiencies of the modified T-37 as compared to the T-46 are based on both aircraft attempting to fulfill the requirements outlined in the system operational concept for the next generation trainer.

The Greatest Commandment David T. Steineker, 2010-12-20 The Greatest Commandment: Matthew 22:37 focuses upon the meaning and impact of Jesus's proclamation that the primary mandate from God is to love him with all of one's heart and soul and mind. The author, David T. Steineker, reviews how understanding this primary command helps one to appreciate the ways in which God has constructed the world according to his law. As a result, The Greatest Commandment contends that one will see the traces of God's law in the design of the physical world and in God's intentions for humanity. In addition, chapters explore several topics of controversy in modern society: evolution and abortion. Finally, a sequence of chapters explores the focus upon Jesus Christ that emerges from the text of Matthew 22:37, the fidelity of the discipleship of John the Baptist, and the final things that will come at the end of this age. If you desire to learn how Jesus's teaching of the Great Commandment can provide shape and meaning to your life and guide you to understand God's design for the world, then The Greatest Commandment: Matthew 22:37 will serve as your handbook for learning and living in harmony with God's intentions for your life and for the unfolding history of the whole world.

Emerging Trends in ICT Security Faisal T. Ammari, J. Lu, Maher Aburrous, 2013-11-06 In this chapter we present a novel approach for securing financial XML transactions using an effective and intelligent fuzzy classification technique. Our approach defines the process of classifying XML content using a set of fuzzy variables. Upon fuzzy classification phase, a unique value is assigned to a defined attribute named ImportanceLevel. Assigned value indicates the data sensitivity for each XML tag. The model also defines the process of securing classified financial XML message content by performing element-wise XML encryption on selected parts defined in fuzzy classification phase. Element-wise encryption is performed using symmetric encryption using AES algorithm with different key sizes. A key size of 128-bit is being used on tags classified with Medium importance level; a key size of 256-bit is being used on tags classified with High importance level. An implementation has been performed on a real-life environment using an online banking system to demonstrate system efficiency. Our experimental results verified tangible enhancements in encryption efficiency, processing-time reduction, and resulting XML message sizes.
