Millie Werber, Eve Keller

The Two Rings Alan Swope,2017-05-05 The Two Rings by Alan Swope This is a story about four rings, they are just plain gold wedding bands but held sacred by Eva Collins. She met the love of her life Marty Atkins in nineteen thirty three they were married in nineteen thirty five. During the years of their marriage she tried to keep track of how many times the rings parted and came back together. When they got married they picked out two rings just thin bands of gold, when their oldest son got married they gave the rings to them. A short time later they bought two more rings, they were wider and like the others just plain gold bands only hers had a small diamond. In later years Marty passed away, a few years after that their youngest son got married, she wanted his wife to have her ring. Her son drove a truck for a living and was gone those many years except for time off. The rings parted and came together as he came and went, their marriage lasted almost ten years, when it was over she wanted her ring back and prayed he would get it for her.

Two Rings Millie Werber,Eve Keller,2012-03-27 Judged only as a World War Two survivor's chronicle, Millie Werber's story would be remarkable enough. Born in central Poland in the town of Radom, she found herself trapped in the ghetto at the age of fourteen, a slave laborer in an armaments factory in the summer of 1942, transported to Auschwitz in the summer of 1944, before being marched to a second armaments factory. She faced death many times; indeed she was certain that she would not survive. But she did. Many years later, when she began to share her past with Eve Keller, the two women rediscovered the world of the teenage girl Millie had been during the war. Most important, Millie revealed her most precious private memory: of a man to whom she was married for a few brief months. He was -- if not the love of her life -- her first great unconditional passion. He died, leaving Millie with a single photograph taken on their wedding day, and two rings of gold that affirm the presence of a great passion in the bleakest imaginable time.

The Israelite Samaritan Version of the Torah Benyamim Tsedaka, Sharon Sullivan, 2013-04-26 This landmark volume presents the first-ever English translation of the ancient Israelite Samaritan version of the Pentateuch, or Torah. A text of growing interest and importance in the field of biblical studies, the Samaritan Pentateuch preserves a version of the Hebrew text distinct from the traditional Masoretic Text that underlies modern Bible translations. Benyamim Tsedaka's expert English translation of the Samaritan Pentateuch is here laid out parallel to the more familiar Masoretic Text, highlighting the more than 6,000 differences between the two versions. In addition to extensive explanatory notes in the margins throughout, the book's detailed appendices show affinities between the Samaritan and Septuagint versions and between the Samaritan and Dead Sea Scroll texts. Concluding the volume is a categorical name index containing a wealth of comparative information.

Rings and Things and a Fine Array of Twentieth Century Associative Algebra Carl Clifton Faith, 2004 This book surveys more than 125 years of aspects of associative algebras, especially ring and module theory. It is the first to probe so extensively such a wealth of historical development. Moreover, the author brings the reader up to date, in particular through his report on the subject in the second half of the twentieth century.

Included in the book are certain categorical properties from theorems of Frobenius and Stickelberger on the primary decomposition of finite Abelian groups; Hilbert's basis theorem and his Nullstellensatz, including the modern formulations of the latter by Krull, Goldman, and others; Maschke's theorem on the representation theory of finite groups over a field; and the fundamental theorems of Wedderburn on the structure of finite dimensional algebras and finite skew fields and their extensions by Brauer, Kaplansky, Chevalley, Goldie, and others. A special feature of the book is the in-depth study of rings with chain condition on annihilator ideals pioneered by Noether, Artin, and Jacobson and refined and extended by many later mathematicians. Two of the author's prior works, Algebra: Rings, Modules and Categories, I and II (Springer-Verlag, 1973), are devoted to the development of modern associative algebra and ring and module theory. Those works serve as a foundation for the present survey, which includes a bibliography of over 1,600 references and is exhaustively indexed. In addition to the mathematical survey, the author gives candid and descriptive impressions of the last half of the twentieth century in "Part II: Snapshots of Some Mathematical Friends and Places". Beginning with his teachers and fellow graduate students at the University of Kentucky and at Purdue, Faith discusses his Fulbright-Nato Postdoctoral at Heidelberg and at the Institute for Advanced Study (IAS) at Princeton, his year as a visiting scholar at Berkeley, and the many acquaintances he met there and in subsequent travels in India, Europe, and most recently, Barcelona. Comments on the first edition: "Researchers in algebra should find it both enjoyable to read and very useful in their work. In all cases, [Faith] cites full references as to the origin and development of the theorem .... I know of no other work in print which does this as thoroughly and as broadly." --John O'Neill, University of Detroit at Mercy "Part II: Snapshots of Some Mathematical Friends and Places' is wonderful! [It is] a joy to read! Mathematicians of my age and younger will relish reading 'Snapshots'." - James A. Huckaba, University of Missouri-Columbia

The Two Rings of Tollense S S Engle, 2020-08-08 1250 BC. The Late Bronze Age. It is a turbulent time in Europe. The rise and fall of empires depends on the equal economic trade from north to south. One such important exchange takes place on the Amber Roads, running from the people of the Baltic Sea, down to the Mycenae in the Mediterranean. But the settlement of Biskupin, which sits at a dire crossroads on the Amber Roads, is playing deadly games. Whiteshanks, an aging Chief of the Biskupin, is in need of wives for his two sons in order to ensure his prosperous legacy. One wife has come in the form of a stolen slave daughter from the Chief of the Rygir. The second wife, already wed to another powerful chief in the north, the Sea King, has just been taken into the walled settlement of Biskupin. Now an army of the north has been raised to rescue the stolen women at all costs, but the army is loose in structure under the Sea King. The men will fight though for the fearsome warrior Kari, Chief of the Skaane, who just so happens to hate the Sea King. Back and forth fighting over the stolen women seems to be getting nowhere fast as Biskupin's defenses are virtually impenetrable. The only way to make any progress will be out on neutral ground. The war travels up the Amber Roads to the wetlands of Tollense, but it is clear a slaughter will have to take place for anything to change. Who will be left standing when it's all over on Europe's oldest battlefield?
