Magic as Metaphor in Anime Dani Cavallaro, 2010-03-08 Since its inception as an art form, anime has engaged with themes, symbols and narrative strategies drawn from the realm of magic. In recent years, the medium has increasingly turned to magic specifically as a metaphor for a wide range of cultural, philosophical and psychological concerns. This book first examines a range of Eastern and Western approaches to magic in anime, addressing magical thinking as an overarching concept which unites numerous titles despite their generic and tonal diversity. It then explores the collusion of anime and magic with reference to specific topics. A close study of cardinal titles is complemented by allusions to ancillary productions in order to situate the medium’s fascination with magic within an appropriately broad historical context.

Woman Running in the Mountains Yuko Tsushima, 2022-02-22 Set in 1970s Japan, this tender and poetic novel about a young, single mother struggling to find her place in the world is an early triumph by a modern Japanese master. Alone at dawn, in the heat of midsummer, a young woman named Takiko Odaka departs on foot for the hospital to give birth to a baby boy. Her pregnancy, the result of a brief affair with a married man, is a source of sorrow and shame to her abusive parents. For Takiko, however, it is a cause for reverie. Her baby, she imagines, will be hers and hers alone, a challenge that she also hopes will free her. Takiko’s first year as a mother is filled with the intense bodily pleasures and pains that come from caring for a newborn. At first she seeks refuge in the company of other women—in the hospital, in her son’s nursery—but as the baby grows, her life becomes less circumscribed as she explores Tokyo, then ventures beyond the city into the countryside, toward a mountain that captures her imagination and desire for a wilder freedom.

Heaven, Hell, and in Between Yuko Sawa, 2013-08 This is a story of a woman who is bilingual and bicultural. She has her stories of how she got there, giving tips on how women trying to rise higher on the corporate ladder where not just glass ceilings exist, but concrete ceilings. She also describes her observations on the cultural, political and economic differences and upheavals of the recent times as well as developments between the US and Japan, and her observations of other countries in Europe, South America, Australia, New Zealand and the Asian countries as far as India, countries where she traveled on business and her vacations with her husband. And how she is today, when she decided to become a writer after she turned sixty-five. She has shown that there is life after retirement, that there are other ways to pursue development of a second career. Territory of Light Yuko Tsushima, 2023-02-23 ‘Wonderfully poetic ... extraordinary freshness ... a Virginia Woolf quality’ Margaret Drabble It is Spring. A young woman, left by her husband, starts a new life in a Tokyo apartment. Territory of Light follows her over the course of a year, as she struggles to bring up her two-year-old daughter alone. Her new home is filled with light, streaming through the windows, so bright you have to squint, but she finds herself plummeting deeper into darkness; becoming unstable, untethered. As the months come and go, and the seasons turn, she must confront what she has lost and what she will become. At once tender and lacerating, luminous and unsettling, Territory of Light is a novel of abandonment, desire and transformation. It was originally published in twelve parts in the Japanese literary monthly Gunzo, between 1978 and 1979, each chapter marking the months in real time. ‘There is something deeply seductive about being drawn into the intimate thoughts of a woman who otherwise would tell them to no one. [. . .] This portrait of an imperfect mother who strives to provide a good life for her child feels painfully relevant.’ Rowan Hisayo Buchanan

Susurros de Eros 2021 Lupita Castillo, En esta antolog a po tica, los poetas cantan, cantan en susurros con el sensual lenguaje del amor, para invocar a la vida con el llamamiento a Eros. Su canto apela al placer de los sentidos en un ciclo m stico, donde el erotismo copula con las letras para gestar versos, que, en borboteos de im genes y lluvia dorada, se calcinan sobre la piel de la hoja de papel hasta rebasar lo humano, para transformarlo, en un acto sagrado que nos involucra a todos y todo lo que vive y vibra en el universo. Expresiones po ticas que navegan en el ardiente y vital mar, donde el erotismo es c mplice y acompa ante en la interminable aventura de la vida, y que, gracias al encuentro luminoso de los cuerpos, se transforma en un ritual profundo de im genes y voces marcadas por la impaciencia, la fragilidad, el deseo, la libertad y la condena amorosa. Constructo de met foras, donde el decir del poeta, es canto que apela al goce pleno de los sentidos. Fuerza y poder de las emociones y sentimientos que hierven y hablan desde el amor, como expresi n sublime de la m xima adoraci n a la vida, a trav s de la erotizaci n de las palabras. Maribel Arreola Rivas.
