Dreams Ezra Jack Keats, 2000-10-09 Roberto is excited about the paper mouse he made in school, until Amy asks, Does it do anything? Roberto isn't sure, so he leaves the mouse on his window sill and goes to bed. Before long his apartment building is quiet, but Roberto can't fall asleep. So he gets up to look out the window and sees Archie's cat being chased by a big, snarling dog! Roberto doesn't know what to do, but fate steps in and an unlikely hero comes to the cat's rescue. The artist's skillful use of a combination of acrylic painting and collage has never been more effectively employed than in this quiet tale. -The Horn Book

The Cut-outs of Henri Matisse Henri Matisse, John Elderfield, 1978 A study of the art form developed by Matisse after an operation drained him of the strength to continue his oil painting, focusing on the elements of color and design that characterize his prints, paper cut-outs, and paper cut-out maquettes.

Henri Matisse Henri Matisse, 2002 The Museum Of Modern Art, November 13, 1951 To January 13, 1952; The Cleveland Museum Of Art, February 5 To March 16, 1952; The Art Institute Of Chicago, April 1 To May 4, 1952; The San Francisco Museum Of Art, May 22 To July 6, 1952.

Henri Matisse Karl D. Buchberg, Henri Matisse, Nicholas Cullinan, Jodi Hauptman, Samantha Friedman, Flavia Frigeri, Markus Gross (Conservator), Nicholas Serota, Stephan Lohrengel, 2014 Henri Matisse is one of the leading figures of modern art. His unparalleled cut-outs are among the most significant of any artist's late works. When ill health first prevented Matisse from painting, he began to cut into painted paper with scissors as his primary technique to make maquettes for a number of commissions, from books and stained glass window designs to tapestries and ceramics. Taking the form of a 'studio diary', the catalogue re-examines the cut-outs in terms of the methods and materials that Matisse used, and looks at the tensions in the works between finish and process; and drawings and colour.

Hanji Unfurled Aimee Lee, 2012 With a history of well over 1,500 years, Korean handmade paper, known as hanji, is familiar to Koreans but a mystery outside its home country. This lustrous paper that comes in a wide array of thickness, color, dimension, and translucency was once a coveted item inside and beyond Korean borders. Made by farmers and artisans during bitter cold winters, hanji was a noble marker of the literati who demanded high-quality paper for books, documents, calligraphy, and painting. Hanji also played a sacred role as the support for illuminated sutras, the body of temple decorations, and spirit of rituals where it was burned in hopes that its ashes would rise to the sky. Fashioned into objects that ranged from kites to armor to shrouds to chamber pots, there was seemingly no end to the possibilities of the combination of human ingenuity and paper through the transformation of natural fibers, until forces of history and industrialization collided and left this once-celebrated substrate and its related craft practices near extinction. In this first English-language book about hanji, Aimee Lee shares her experience as a Korean-American artist and Fulbright fellow on her search for a traditional Korean papermaking teacher. Of the handful of American hanji researchers, she is the only one to have interacted with Koreans in their own language while simultaneously learning the craft. This book follows her journey as she met papermakers, scholars, and artists from bustling cities to traditional Korean villages to Buddhist temples to island outposts. Not only did she encounter the few remaining papermakers who still practice webal tteugi, the indigenous Korean sheet-formation method, but she found teachers of a whole array of allied crafts that include jiseung-cording and weaving hanji, joomchi-texturing and felting hanji, natural dyeing, and calligraphy. She traveled from the studios of living treasures to the homes of ordinary Koreans, illuminating an often-misunderstood culture through stories from its keepers of traditional heritage. Book jacket.

4 Mexican Paper Crafts: Simple and Fun Craft Tutorials Inspired by Mexican Artisan Paper Decorations Ellen Deakin, Harry Olden, 2014-08 Description The Mexican tradition of paper crafting dates back to pre-Hispanic times when the Aztecs made paper from tree bark, called Amate. With the Spanish conquest brightly colored tissue paper or Papel de China arrived on trading boats from the Phillipines and was used in paper crafts. Pinatas, papel picado and paper flowers are important in the festivities of Cinco de Mayo and Dia de los Muertos and are also used to decorate birthday parties, weddings and baby showers amongst other celebrations. From the beginning of Happythought we have been inspired by the beauty and simplicity of these Mexican paper crafts. We have really enjoyed trying our hand at creating our own, with satisfying results! Now we have put together four of our favorite paper craft tutorials for you try in one book. The techniques we have used are not always traditional - the projects are designed to be easy to make and use materials that you hopefully already have at home or in your craft box. The crafts are also designed with little fingers in mind - most of the activities are easy enough for a child to complete, with a little adult supervision! Tutorials

How to make a paper star These stunning ornaments are partly inspired by Mexican star pinatas and partly by the beautiful Moravian tin star lanterns made by Mexican artisans. You could also attach your star decorations to a string of fairy lights to make a garland of teeny-tiny star lanterns. We have provided three colorful templates for you to use, or why not create your own using the black and white template as a starting point?

How to make paper flowers These simple paper flowers are fun to make and so easy that the whole family can get involved. They can be used to decorate a party or Cinco de Mayo celebration, arranged in vases or as a centerpiece at a wedding, or placed on an ofrenda for Dia de los Muertos. You could also attach one or two flowers to a bobby pin or hair band and create a decorative hair piece!

How to make papel picado Papel picado means 'punched' or 'perforated' paper, and traditionally papel picado are made from colored tissue paper and cut using chisels. We wanted to simplify the perforated paper technique so that you could create papel picado with household scissors, and after a bit of experimentation we came up with this easy method of producing your own stunning papel picado. We made ours using crepe paper as it comes in lovely, vibrant colors and we found it much easier to handle than tissue paper, which tends to tear. It also means that your papel picado last longer so you can use them again next year!

How to make a mini pinata Ever since we moved our family to South America, we have all fallen head-over-heels for pinatas, so it wasn't long until we felt compelled to try making one of our own. Traditionally, you beat a pinata with a stick until it exploded and all the yummy, shiny contents fell to the ground. Now days, as a safer option, pinatas often come with a string which you pull down on to release the contents. We wanted to make a fully functioning mini pinata, so ours too has a pull string. It's been tried and tested by our children, so we can report that it works beautifully!

Templates If you would like to use the templates shown in the tutorial photos they are all free with the book to download from the Happythought website. We have also included templates in this book which you can photocopy and scale up to use for your projects, copy by hand or use as inspiration for your own designs.

Chung Chang-Sup Chang-Sup Chung, Kwang-Soo Oh, 2016-03-17 Ce livre s'attache à analyser deux séries emblématiques du travail de Chung Chang-Sup. La série \pm Tak ? ? du nom du mûrier à papier ?, réalisée dans les années 1980, et la série \pm Méditation ?, inaugurée dans les années 1990. Pour \pm Tak ?, le hanji sert de matériau intégré au support, mais aussi à former de délicates altérations à la surface, en réalisant des empreintes de ses froissures. \pm Méditation ? renouvelle son travail de la surface à travers un ensemble de gestes maîtrisés qui lui permet d'ouvrir la peinture vers l'espace pur et monochrome du tableau, suivant le rythme même de l'acte méditatif. La matière et ses altérations forment le tableau chez Chung Chang-Sup, elle sédimente le temps de création, selon le principe de modération ancré dans la philosophie coréenne. Le tableau est amené à sa forme ultime au terme d'un long processus de travail qui s'opère comme une méditation, car l'oeuvre d'art, pour Chung Chang-Sup, doit être le résultat d'une osmose avec la nature.0.

Amie Dicke Amie Dicke, Brian Sholis, 2004 Armed with an X-acto knife, Amie Dicke meticulously cuts pieces out of magazine images of women until a sort of spider's web has been created; a lace prison of voids. Nothing is left of the model but her hair, her upper lip, and perhaps an eye. According to art critic Ana Finel Honigman, Dicke's work intertwines sex and death so enticingly that her cut-outs could count as the Cliff Notes to Georges Bataille. Reproduced here are more than 70 of the artist's signature cuttings.
