Blue and Green Butterfly Mixed Media Cards Shera Rose Kincaid,2015-07-09 Blue and Green Butterfly Mixed Media Cards is about making my own mixed media cards, using a butterfly stencil, which I've never used. The cards are made in several shades of blue and green, which always go well together. I've used many media, including paper, cardstock, scraps, craft foam, tissue paper, metallic paint, chalk marbling, crinkled tissue paper, and my butterfly stencil. My method of decorating my paper first results in artistic, highly unique cards. I use mainly inexpensive craft supplies in an artistic way. Anyone who receives a card like this tends to keep it for a while. My cards are often found on display in the recipient's home.

How to Spot Butterflies Patricia Sutton,Clay Sutton,1999 In a recent article, the New York Times Magazine described butterfly watching as the fastest-growing segment of nature recreation. Little wonder - butterflies are beautiful, exotic, interesting, and observable by anyone, virtually anywhere, young or old, urban or rural. Consummate teachers, the Suttons use the same easy-to-understand style that has made both of their previous books in the How to Spot series bestsellers. Taking up where field guides leave off, they reveal which habitats are sure to hold large butterfly populations and which specific host plants attract butterflies. They address how to use binoculars and share the secrets of how to approach a butterfly without scaring it off. Environmentally sensitive and unobtrusive observation is emphasized, not outdated netting and collecting. Exceptional nectar sources, which are feeding grounds for vast numbers of butterflies, are described. Full-color photographs appear throughout. The Suttons' proven butterfly-watching techniques
