Awaken, Preciosa Krysta Buckley,2000-07 Author Bio: krysta buckley was born in Ann Arbor, Michigan in 1953. She lives in Lincoln, Nebraska and is currently working on a sequel to Awaken, Preciosa. She is the author of Silva Smiled. Book Description: Young, healthy people are dying during the sexual act from stroke and cardiac arrest. Homicide detectives Sandra Van Ness and Walter Kearns believe there must be foul play involved but they have nothing to go on. No method, motive, forcible entry, struggle or weapons. There are no bacterial or viral compromises. No congenital histories of stroke or heart attack. No evidence of drugs or sado-masochistic play gone awry. One link connects these, otherwise, unrelated deaths. A woman. A behavioral institute is seeking her. To protect her. Kearns and Van Ness are also seeking her, to arrest her for murder, until Sandra Van Ness comes face to face with her and is irrevocably changed. Walter Kearns is in love with his partner, but something is wrong. Kearns follows Sandra and discovers her in the company of the woman they've been seeking. Torn between his love for Sandra and his lack of control over her choices, Walter takes a downward spiral into depression until he too comes face to face with the woman, but in a way he could never have dreamed. Is this woman committing serial murder or does the answer defy human reason?

Contemporary Archaeology and the City Laura McAtackney,Krysta Ryzewski,2017 Contemporary Archaeology and the City foregrounds the archaeological study of post-industrial and other urban transformations through a diverse, international collection of case studies. Over the past decade contemporary archaeology has emerged as a dynamic force for dissecting and contextualizing the material complexities of present-day societies. Contemporary archaeology challenges conventional anthropological and archaeological conceptions of the past by pushing temporal boundaries closer to, if not into, the present. The volume is organized around three themes that highlight the multifaceted character of urban transitions in present-day cities - creativity, ruination, and political action. The case studies offer comparative perspectives on transformative global urban processes in local contexts through research conducted in the struggling, post-industrial cities of Detroit, Belfast, Indianapolis, Berlin, Liverpool, Belem, and post-Apartheid Cape Town, as well as the thriving urban centres of Melbourne, New York City, London, Chicago, and Istanbul. Together, the volume contributions demonstrate how the contemporary city is an urban palimpsest comprised by archaeological assemblages - of the built environment, the surface, and buried sub-surface - that are traces of the various pasts entangled with one another in the present. This volume aims to position the city as one of the most important and dynamic arenas for archaeological studies of the contemporary by presenting a range of theoretically-engaged case studies that highlight some of the major issues that the study of contemporary cities pose for archaeologists.
