Glossolalia Peter Dabbene, 2005-03-02 Glossolalia is a compendium of 35 short stories, taking on genres from short comedy to science fiction, and from political satire to literary fiction and horror. A turn of the 21st century detective seeks a sense of purpose and a new start. A modern magician finds peace in a recorded voice from the past. A trucker gets a warning along with his meal at a truck stop diner. The brightest lights of stage and screen engage in a secret mission to save Hollywood. A young woman is taken for a ride at her new job, courtesy of political correctness. Germans and Russians compete in an escalating animal war during World War II. A reenactor sees history come to life on the battlefield at Gettysburg. A young Cuban man seeks escape to America on the high seas. A father tinkers with the genetic coding of his boys to give them a chance at succeeding where he has failed. These stories, and many more, await the reader of Glossolalia.

Peter Doig Peter Doig, Richard Shiff, Catherine Lampert, 2011

The most comprehensive monograph on Turner Prize-nominated artist Peter Doig. In every generation of artists, there are a few-or perhaps just one-who propose a new set of questions and alter the way we understand art. Peter Doig is such an artist. While stories of painting's demise in the early 1990s deemed painters and their work quaintly anachronistic, Doig-looking ahead as much as back for inspiration-forged a new painterly language: an ironic mix of Romanticism and post-impressionism to create haunting and sometimes dreamlike landscape vistas. In this lavish new volume devoted to his entire career-which includes paintings, drawings, and reference material, such as found photographs-art historians Richard Shiff and Catherine Lampert mine the artist's rich and varied work. Doig's landscapes have been inspired by the many places the artist has lived-England, Canada, Trinidad. So, too, does memory, or the idea of memory, inform much of his production. This handsome slipcased volume is designed in close collaboration with the artist, with Doig specially creating the cover and various elements of the interior. Every facet of the painter's singular vision is explored, from his earliest paintings of the early 1990s to the most recent series of works. Published in association with Michael Werner Gallery

Penny Peter Davidson,2017-05-07 Have you ever looked at a coin in the palm of your hand and wondered where it has been, what it has seen and heard, and what stories it could tell? Well, in a nutshell, that is what PENNY is about as this very special one-cent piece passes through the hands of ordinary people, the famous, the infamous, the saints, and the sinners and hangs out in churches, honkytonks, and everywhere in between. This book tells the stories of the people whose hands PENNY passes through. Why is this particular penny so special? Well, because it was the final penny ever minted of 95% copper, on October 22, 1982. After that, all one-cent pieces are pathetic and puny, consisting of 97.5% zinc with only a touch of copper thrown in. That's why. After reading PENNY, you might never again be able to pass by a penny lying on the ground without at least giving a thought to picking it up and putting it in your pocket. Every book should be dedicated to someone or something, and this book is dedicated to the penny pinchers of the world. Okay, also to the penny hoarders. PENNY is Peter Davidson's twenty-eighth published book.

I Was Here! Peter Dallos,2020-05-10 This is the story of 85 years in the life of Peter Dallos, a prominent neuroscientist and sculptor. It begins with childhood under the fascist regime in Hungary and recounts deprivations during the German occupation during the last year of World War 2, life under communist rule while in junior-high, high school and university. Hungarian high school and university life during the 1950s is described in detail. The upheaval of the 1956 anti-Soviet revolution is related, as well as escape, a new life and subsequent higher education in America. This is also the story of 50 years of groundbreaking research on the biology of the auditory system. The research career is illustrated by descriptions of various highlights from the production of the Dallos-lab, including the proof that outer hair cells are the cochlear amplifier and the discovery of prestin, the motor molecule in those cells which are responsible for the most fundamental capabilities of our hearing organ. During the last ten years of the story, a new career path emerged and is described, that of making welded steel and machined aluminum sculpture. All events and happenings are embedded in the telling about the author's personal life, his family, homes, travel and university and public citizenship.
