Red Bull. Growth and Product Positioning of New Entrants , 2014-10-08 Essay aus dem Jahr 2012 im Fachbereich BWL - Unternehmensführung, Management, Organisation, Note: 1,7, Universität Hohenheim, Sprache: Deutsch, Abstract: Auf dem globalen Getränkemarkt herrscht ein verschärfter Wettbewerb. Insbesondere große Unternehmen haben Strategien entwickelt um langfristig Marktanteile und große Skaleneffekte zu realisieren um wettbewerbsfähig zu bleiben. Der Eintritt in die Getränkeindustrie ist durch Gründung eines neuen

Unternehmens, durch Diversifikation existierender Unternehmen oder durch die komplette Übernahme eines existierenden Unternehmens möglich. Weitere internationale Expansionsmöglichkeiten sind der Aufbau eigener Produktionsstätten oder Tochtergesellschaften im Ausland, Exporte sowie die Vergabe von Lizenzen. Der Markt für Energy Drinks ist bis heute relativ stabil, da der Konsum durch den modernen Lebensstil, durch den Preiswettbewerb und durch die verschiedenen verfügbaren Größen der Dosen nicht abgenommen hat. Nicht nur die Qualität, der Preis oder das Design der Verpackung spielen für den Absatz des Energy Drinks eine wichtige Rolle. Ebenso die Positionierung des Produkts bzw. der Marke ist gerade auf gesättigten Märkten von großer Bedeutung. Beispielsweise kann gezielt durch Marketingaktivitäten Markenaufbau betrieben und vor allem die Bekanntheit der Marke gesteigert werden. Auch ein großes Portfolio an Marken und Produkten kann strategisch sinnvoll sein um die Bedürfnisse und Wünsche aller Konsumenten befriedigen zu können. Das untersuchte Thema in dieser Arbeit zeigt auf, wie der österreichische Energy Drink-Hersteller Red Bull versucht seine internationale Präsenz zu erweitern und in welchem Verhältnis er dabei zu wichtigen Wettbewerbern steht. Besonders interessant ist die Tatsache, dass Red Bull ein einfaches internationales Konzept verfolgt. Im Rahmen dieser Arbeit soll die Frage beantwortet werden, inwiefern Red Bull Erfolg mit diesem Konzept hat.

Analysis of the portfolio of Red Bull based on the BCG matrix Martin Pruschkowski, 2018-07-16

Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics - Miscellaneous, University of applied sciences, Nürnberg, language: English, abstract: The objective of this work is it to introduce and apply one of the most renowned strategic instruments in the portfolio analysis for the company's management – the BCG Matrix. By applying the BCG Model to the Red Bull Company current strength and weaknesses of the portfolio will be uncovered and based on the analysis a decisions can be made about selection, prioritization and alignment of SBU´s to create a balance between risk and performance. Even Red Bull has already started to diversify into other businesses, rather than limiting itself to energy drinks the diversification strategy has not yet success so far, hence it can be expected an unbalanced and therefore risky portfolio.

Product and Price Analysis of Red Bull in Central Europe Julia Teigeler, Ann-Katrin Hahne, 2014-05-27 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics - Marketing, Corporate Communication, CRM, Market Research, Social Media, grade: 2,0, University of Applied Sciences Essen, language: English, abstract: In this second assignment named „Product and Price Analysis of Red Bull in Central Europe“ the goal is to analyse the “product” and “price” strategy and to give a short overview of their “place” and “promotion” strategy. Red Bull as company was founded in 1987 with its slogan “Red Bull gives you wiings”. The firm developed by Dietrich Mateschitz sold more than 35 billion cans until now and is available in more than 165 countries.

The product is developed from a Thai energy drink and includes caffeine, taurine, B-Vitamines, saccharose, glucose and water, what can be consumed by people in many situations for their physical and social needs and Red Bull created an emotional binding. The product is only available in six different types but because of the well established brand and its young and modern image people have a positive association with it and so buy it. The Company has worldwide steady growth rates although it is sold at a very high price level with compared to that low production costs. In contrast to that the competitors' products are much cheaper, but Red Bull sticks to their prices even many competitors entered the market.. But it can be said that Red Bull is aiming for an abnormal profit and concentrating on internal and marketing orientation when setting their prices. The consumers are paying for the "way of life" and the quality. To the place and promotion strategy can be said that Red Bull is available in 165 countries (in nearly ever little shop) but produced only in Austria and Switzerland. The company is widespread represented in sports sector where they are sponsoring much sportspersons and events. To summarize that it can be said that Red Bull is a very successful and powerful company and the world's market leader in the energy drink sector but the challenge will be how to maintain the constant growth in revenue and market share. The authors hold the opinion that Red Bull should maintain developing their extreme sport sponsoring and should develop some new products as well as produce them from natural resources.

Market Analysis of Red Bull based on the countries Germany, Switzerland and Austria Julia Teigeler, Ann-Katrin Hahne, 2014-05-27 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics - Offline Marketing and Online Marketing, grade: 2,0, University of Applied Sciences Essen, language: English, abstract: In this assignment named „Market Analysis of Red Bull based on the countries Germany, Switzerland and Austria“ the goal is to analyse the market of Red Bull with its competitors, customers and market position. Red Bull is a company and brand founded in 1987 with its slogan “Red Bull gives you wiiings”. The company launched by Dietrich Mateschitz sold more than 35 billion cans until now and is available in more than 165 countries. The brand is well known because of the large amount of athletes in sports and extreme sports sector they are supporting. They are having their own sport events and additionally teams in such different sectors like e.g. football, formula 1 or flying. The biggest event they were supporting in the last years was the jump up from stratosphere of Felix Baumgartner. Red Bull had also had some problems in the past not only with new out coming competitors. But in some countries are legal requirements to enter the market and health concerns are producing negative publicity because they were warning customers that the drink can harm healthiness. Other points which are influencing the market position are that the price is very high and the competitive prices compared are much cheaper. Positive points to mention are that Red Bull helps it's customers to overlap working much hours and to support them doing diet or sports more effective. Another important point is that the company is always using newest technology. The disadvantage is that there are many competitors with cheaper prices and Red Bull itself has a small product portfolio (only six different drinks). All in all it can be said, that they are the market leader with a big growth in other countries and are seen as unique by the consumers. They have an attractive image and they are offering not only a drink but an experience. This is what creates their unique selling proposition in a way with a clear brand personality combined with an emotional binding and a high public interest. Their positioning in the market is very high levelled what is caused by the "old" but also "modern" slogan, that's a high premium drink and not linked to a specific activity. But to bear in mind is that it would become more difficult to hold the market leadership and justify premium pricing as well as their production methods.

Wings of Change Karan Teiwani, 2020-11-09 Wings of Change is the story of how the world's biggest energy drinks company made its mark in football. After years of success in beverages and extreme sports, Red Bull took over their local club, SV Austria Salzburg, controversially changing its name, crest, colors, and history. While Red Bull were going strong, they faced a backlash from supporters who claimed they were damaging the integrity of the sport. Angry displays were seen at the ground and fans formed a phoenix club to honor the history of their former team. Similar projects soon followed in New York, Leipzig, S&ão Paulo, and Sogakope and again provoked hostility. Within a few years, Red Bull had captured the attention of the footballing world, developing an exciting line of talent across the globe. Now an established force in football, Red Bull's two most successful teams, RB Salzburg and RB Leipzig, are more prominent than ever. This book reveals how Red Bull changed the game, exploring their successes, controversies, and innovations.

Company Analysis of Red Bull Bernd Bodner, 2011-04-14 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics - Offline Marketing and Online Marketing, grade: B+, Griffith University, language: English, abstract: Red Bull gives you wings! Nearly nobody never heard this slogan in his life or saw it somewhere or at least tried a sip of Red Bull. The Austrian company polarizes: Its taste, its marketing or the supposed health harming ingredients in this drink. Red Bull is the world's leading manufacturer of energy drinks through its Red Bull brand. Its energy drink is exclusively produced in Austria and consumed in more than 100 countries worldwide - throughout Europe and many parts of North and South America, Africa and Australia. Network and relationship allocation and identification for the Red Bull Company in Thailand Benjamin Bach,2007-07-02 Essay from the year 2007 in the subject Business economics - Offline Marketing and Online Marketing, grade: 1st, University of Lincoln (Faculty of Business & Law), course: Global Relationship Marketing, language: English, abstract: This report critically analyses the network allocation and identification for the Red Bull Company in Thailand, and highlights strategic focal net implications in developing this emerging market. The first part of this report will determine major focal networks in Thailand by applying theoretical models to highlight and categorise the most crucial key market domains Red Bull needs to be connected with, while consolidating a position in the Thai functional beverage market. The second part of this essay aims to identify possible strategic implications, in order to build a solid and long-lasting position in the Thai market while collaborating with its potential network constituents. As business networks are getting increasingly important as a powerful tool for strategic business development (McAuley, 2001) and uncertainty attenuation whilst expanding business operations in foreign countries (Hollensen, 2004).

Investigation of the Marketing of the Red Bull Company in Consideration of Cultural Aspects

Florian Riedel, 2007-03-15 Seminar paper from the year 2003 in the subject Business economics - Offline Marketing and Online Marketing, grade: 1,0, Lund University (School of Economics and Management), course: International Marketing and Euro-Marketing, language: English, abstract: This paper looks closer at international marketing with an emphasis on the cultural issues, which are often forgotten in real life. The company Red Bull was chosen as an area of study in order for us to be able to apply and test the theories in our course literature with the way things are done in reality. The choice of Red Bull was an obvious one because of its presence in the global marketplace as well as the group-members home countries. The course literature has been used as a point of reference when it comes to examining whether the company is standardizing or adapting and also regarding international marketing as a whole. Moreover, the paper will focus on the Czech Republic, France, Germany, and Sweden in correlation to the marketing Red Bull adopts in these countries.

Strategic Analysis and Recommendations for Red Bull ,2023-01-16 Seminar paper from the year 2022 in the subject Business economics - Review of Business Studies, , language: English, abstract: Red Bull GmbH is one of the largest companies globally in terms of innovation. It is this competitive edge in innovation that enabled the company to transition its product from an unstable drink to a leading energy drink globally. The Austrian company was founded in 1987 and has so far grown to occupy the largest share of the energy drink market, selling 7.5 billion cans in the year ending 2019. Red Bull's main strength is in its marketing campaigns. Instead of following a traditional approach to mass marketing, Red Bull generates brand awareness through the creation of a brand myth by engaging customers in multiple activities and experiences, including extreme sports events. Red Bull also owns sports teams such as Formula One team, football clubs such as Red Bull Salzburg and so on. Other marketing activities include music engagement through Red Bull Records, as well as celebrity endorsements. Apart from its sports-centred marketing being innovative, the cost of this approach is lower than the conventional methods used by other beverage companies such as Coca-Cola. Despite its marketing success, the company faces the problem of lacking a patent for the company's product formula. As such, many companies used Red Bull's secret ingredients to develop competing products. Furthermore, Red Bull has received negative press regarding the potential health risks associated with some of its products.

A Fly-away Success Story Rosalind Masterson, 2016
Red Bull serves here as an excellent example of a company's successful brand marketing with a small marketing budget.
