Introduction to YouTube Kids Gilad James, PhD, YouTube Kids is a video streaming platform that is specialized for children under the age of 13, providing a safe and age-appropriate environment to explore videos, channels, and playlists. The app was launched in 2015, offering a tailor-made interface that is more intuitive and easy-to-navigate than the regular YouTube app. YouTube Kids has a wide range of content, including educational videos, cartoons, music, gaming, and more, all curated by a team of human reviewers to ensure that it is appropriate for young audiences. YouTube Kids offers a variety of features that are designed to enhance safety and parental control, such as restricted mode, which filters out explicit content, pause watch history, and timer settings that limit screen time. Parents can also customize the app's content based on their child's age and interests using the grown-ups only area. Additionally, YouTube Kids also provides parents with the ability to limit the search function to only pre-approved videos and enable a timer to monitor how long the child has been using the app. Overall, YouTube Kids is a valuable tool for parents who want to give their children access to online video content without the concerns of exposing them to inappropriate or harmful material.

Screen Time Lisa Guernsey,2012-03-20 As a mother, Lisa Guernsey wondered about the influence of television on her two young daughters. As a reporter, she resolved to find out. What she first encountered was tired advice, sensationalized research claims, and a rather draconian mandate from the American Academy of Pediatrics: no TV at all before the age of two. But like many parents, she wanted straight answers and realistic advice, so she kept digging: she visited infant-perception labs and child development centers around the country. She interviewed scores of parents, psychologists, cognitive scientists, and media researchers, as well as programming executives at Noggin, Disney, Nickelodeon, Sesame Workshop, and PBS. Much of what she found flies in the face of conventional wisdom and led her to conclude that new parents will be best served by focusing on “the three C’s”: content, context, and the individual child. Advocating a new approach to television and DVDs, Guernsey focuses on infants to five-year-olds and goes beyond the headlines to explore what exactly is “educational” about educational media. She examines how play and language development are affected by background and foreground television and how to choose videos that are age-appropriate. She explains how to avoid the hype of “brain stimulation” and focus instead on social relationships and the building blocks of language and literacy. Along the way, Guernsey highlights independent research on shows ranging from Dora the Explorer to Dragon Tales, and distills some surprising new findings in the field of child development. Into the Minds of Babes is a fascinating book that points out how little credible research exists to support the AAP’s dire recommendation. Parents, teachers, and psychologists will be relieved to learn positive approaches to using videos with young children and will be empowered to make their own informed choices.
