Action Park Andy Mulvihill,Jake Rossen,2020-06-30 Citizen Kane does Adventureland. —The Washington Post The outlandish, hilarious, terrifying, and almost impossible-to-believe story of the legendary, dangerous amusement park where millions were entertained and almost as many bruises were sustained, told through the eyes of the founder's son. Often called Accident Park, Class Action Park, or Traction Park, Action Park was an American icon. Entertaining more than a million people a year in the 1980s, the New Jersey-based amusement playland placed no limits on danger or fun, a monument to the anything-goes spirit of the era that left guests in control of their own adventures—sometimes with tragic results. Though it closed its doors in 1996 after nearly twenty years, it has remained a subject of constant fascination ever since, an establishment completely anathema to our modern culture of rules and safety. Action Park is the first-ever unvarnished look at the history of this DIY Disneyland, as seen through the eyes of Andy Mulvihill, the son of the park's idiosyncratic founder, Gene Mulvihill. From his early days testing precarious rides to working his way up to chief lifeguard of the infamous Wave Pool to later helping run the whole park, Andy's story is equal parts hilarious and moving, chronicling the life and death of a uniquely American attraction, a wet and wild 1980s adolescence, and a son's struggle to understand his father's quixotic quest to become the Walt Disney of New Jersey. Packing in all of the excitement of a day at Action Park, this is destined to be one of the most unforgettable memoirs of the year.

The Water Slide Annette Smith, 2007

Gustave Gator and the Giant Water Slide G. Diecedue, 2014-07-11 Gustave Gator and the Giant Water Slide What does it mean to be brave? Is it to just be strong and smart and tough? Is it simply about helping those in need? But what if being brave means being afraid but still doing what you have to do anyway? Gustave Gator was considered the bravest citizen of Cypress Swampville. He was always ready to lend a helping hand. He is big and strong and sharp, and everyone looks up to him. However, Gustave has a secret fear that was about to be exposed. The folks of Cypress Swampville are celebrating the construction of a large water park in their area. It has everything - twisting rapids, lazy rivers, log rides and more. But the main attraction of the park was its giant water slide - and all who knew about it were waiting eagerly to try it out. Except for our Gustave. He had a great fear of water slides, and the height makes him feel weird. Well, he thought, he could at least avoid going to the water park altogether, so that his best friend Clovis cannot force him into the slide. But Gustave realized he would not be able to stay away from the water park for much longer. One of his close friends, Ernestine, would celebrate her birthday in a few week's time. And where else would she spend this special day in, but at the water park everyone was so excited about? When something goes wrong at Ernestine's party, Gustave, the only one smart enough and strong enough to set things right, will have to face his greatest fear in order to help a friend. Gustave has to understand how to be a true hero by learning the lesson of what real bravery is - overcoming his own weaknesses to lend a helping hand to those who need him. Find Out How Gustave Conquers His Fear!

The Riviera Set: Glitz, Glamour, and the Hidden World of High Society Mary S. Lovell, 2017-09-05 The author of the bestselling The Sisters: The Saga of the Mitford Family brings her trademark brio and relish to the charming and fascinating world of the Château de l'Horizon on the French Riviera. The Riviera Set reveals the story of the group of people who lived, partied, bed-hopped and politicked at the Château de l'Horizon near Cannes, over the course of forty years from the time when Coco Chanel made southern French tans fashionable in the twenties to the death of the playboy Prince Aly Khan in 1960. At the heart of dynamic group was the amazing Maxine Elliott, the daughter of a fisherman from Connecticut, who built the beautiful art deco Château and brought together the likes of Noel Coward, the Aga Khan, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and two very saucy courtesans, Doris Castlerosse and Daisy Fellowes, who set out to be dangerous distractions to Winston Churchill as he worked on his journalism and biographies during his 'wilderness years' in the thirties. After the War the story continued as the Château changed hands and Prince Aly Khan used it to entertain the Hollywood set, as well as launch his seduction of and eventual marriage to Rita Hayworth. Bringing a bygone era back to life, Mary Lovell cements her spot as one of our top social historians in this captivating and evocative new book.

Happy Birthday, Bali! Lindsay Anderson, 2018-05-26 For my birthday party this year, I had asked my parents if I could have a co-ed sleepover.

Thankfully and with some conditions (The first one being that the guys and girls had to sleep in different rooms), Mom and Dad had agreed. After they had said yes, I had worked on my guest list. In the end, my best friends and boyfriend had been invited. While Mitzi and I would be sleeping in my large bedroom, the guys would be sleeping in the large activity room. Thinking about tonight made me feel excited. Not only would all of us be going swimming in my parents and my mansion's indoor pool (complete with pool lounge chairs and a water slide), and enjoying pizza, goodies, and birthday cake, the six of us would also be watching a movie and doing lots of other fun things. Truth be told, tonight was going to be awesome and fun!
