Journal of the Fortean Research Center Paperbound Ray Boeche, 2012-07-01 The Fortean Research Center was founded in Lincoln, Nebraska in 1982. During the two decades of its existence, this volunteer group of researchers and investigators delved deep into the unexplained. Exploring events in Nebraska - and far beyond - that included ghosts, UFOs, Bigfoot encounters, animal mutilations, government cover-ups, alleged alien abductions, psychic phenomena, cult activity, and even a sighting of a blob-like mystery creature the Fortean Research Center became recognized among members of the Fortean, paranormal, and UFO research communities around the world, as a reliable and trusted source of information. Here is the entire collection of the Journal of the Fortean Research Center, 23 issues in all. These publications are a reflection of their time, and demonstrate in many cases the beginning steps into subjects familiar to the public today: alleged UFO crashes and landings at government installations, alien abductions, cryptozoology and more.

Jadoo John A. Keel,2013 Someone, we know not who, once called Jadoo the greatest book ever written on the black magic of the Orient. But we do know that there will never again be another book like it. Jadoo, a Hindi word meaning Black Magic, captures a world that is now lost to us-the strange, dark, mysterious world that was once called the Orient. This story of a real-life Indiana Jones of the 1950s named John Keel contains everything but a trip to Venus in a flying saucer--a subject our newsman/explorer would become famous for a decade later. In Egypt, the fearless Keel was cursed by a mummy and befriended members of a strange snake-charming cult. In Iraq, he played Russian roulette with a notorious desert bandit and lived among the Yezidi devil-worshippers. Later, in India, he was buried alive and discovered the secret of the Indian rope trick, which he then performed for incredulous reporters in New Delhi. And in a riveting finale, he chased the Abominable Snowman through the little known Himalayan kingdom of Sikkim before being unceremoniously booted out of Singapore for being an undesirable alien. This new edition contains material never before published. One of the most traveled and imaginative raconteurs since Baron Munchausen. -- San Francisco Examiner Here is a fireside adventure with a chill in it. -- Buffalo Evening News A fabulous tour of Egypt, the Middle East, India, and Tibet. -- Hartford Times ... a combination of cliff-hanging experiences with serious probing for the bizarre, the secretive, and the enigmatic. -- Kirkus

Geology and Platinum-group-element Mineralization of Alaskan-type Ultramafic-mafic Complexes in British Columbia Graham Tom Nixon,British Columbia. Geological Survey Branch,British Columbia. Ministry of Employment and Investment,1997 Alaskan-type ultramafic-mafic complexes in British Columbia are potential hosts for commercially exploitable deposits of platinum group elements (PGEs). Such complexes are named for a distinctive suite of intrusions distributed along a narrow, northerly trending belt 600 kilometres long in south-eastern Alaska. All Alaskan-type complexes in British Columbia lie within the allochthonous terranes of the Intermontane Belt that were amalgamated and accreted to the cratonic margin of ancestral North America in the Mesozoic. This report examines the geology and PGE/noble metal geochemistry of eight specific complexes, providing information on regional geology and geochronology, structure, metamorphism, petrography, geochemistry, and mineralization. It then discusses PGE mineralization, using the Tulameen Complex and associated placers as a case study, and examines the economic potential of the complexes and their magmatic and tectonic settings.

Wind Loggers Dorsey Alan Wingo, 2005-05 In 1996 after becoming a heli-logger, Dorsey Wingo (also known as Captain Methane to his logging friends) began to document adventures experienced during ten years spent as a helicopter logging pilot. The Rise and Fall of Captain Methane Dorsey Alan Wingo, 2010-01-08 Death on the 'Twilight Zone' Set Los Angeles Herald Examiner, July 24, 1982 Flying debris from exploding gasoline fireballs triggered yesterday's freak helicopter crash that killed veteran actor Vic Morrow and two child actors as they filmed an escape scene, preliminary reports from investigators indicate. May 29th, 1987 - The jury in the Twilight Zone accident case acquit movie director John Landis and four co-defendants of all charges filed by the LA District Attorney. Among the jurors' conclusions were that the Vietnam era helicopter was accidentally sent spinning out of control during filming by poorly timed special effects explosions. In Northwest Texas, a small town shoeshine boy looks to the blue skies above Sundown and yearns to be a pilot. Ten years pass and Dorsey Wingo is drafted as part of LBJ's massive military build-up in Vietnam. In March of 1969, Charlie Model gunship pilot Wingo takes to the skies over Pleiku in the defense of freedom. The author survives his tour of duty, returning to a shattered marriage, and an ungrateful and divided America. In time, his love of flying takes him as far afield as the jungles of Peru and the poppy fields of Mexico. Then came the movies, and the Twilight Zone. Southern California has been Wingo's home base for many years of his aerial adventures, culminating as a Huey logging pilot in the Northwestern USA and Alaska. Captain Methane put Wind Loggers into print in 2005, the first such book about the hazardous helicopter logging profession.
