The Hero's Body: A Memoir William Giraldi,2016-08-09 A memoir of motorcycles and muscles, of obsession and grief, and of a young man who learned how to stay alive through literature. At just forty-seven years old, William Giraldi's father was killed in a horrific motorcycle crash while racing on a country road. This tragedy, which forever altered the young Giraldi and devastated his family, provides the pulse for The Hero's Body. In the tradition of Andre Dubus III's Townie, this is a deep-seeing investigation into two generations of men from the working-class town of Manville, New Jersey, including Giraldi's own forays into obsessive bodybuilding as a teenager desperate to be worthy of his family's pitiless, exacting codes of manhood. Lauded by The New Yorker for his "unrelenting, perfectly paced prose," Giraldi writes here with daring, searing honesty about the fragility and might of the American male. An unflinching memoir of luminous sorrow, a son's tale of a lost father and the ancient family strictures of extreme masculinity, The Hero's Body is a work of lasting beauty by one of our most fearless writers.

Riding in the Zone Ken Condon,2019-10-15 Riding motorcycles is fun, but author Ken Condon maintains that there is a state of consciousness to be achieved beyond the simple pleasure of riding down the road. Riding in the Zone helps riders find that state of being. It's the experience of being physically and mentally present in the moment, where every sense is sharply attuned to the ride. Your mind becomes silent to the chatter of daily life, and everyday problems seem to dissolve. You feel a deeper appreciation for life. Your body responds to this state of being with precise, fluid movements, you feel in balance, your muscles are relaxed, and it seems as though every input you make is an expression of mastery. This is the Zone. Condon identifies all of the factors that affect entering the Zone and addresses each one individually, from the development of awareness and mental skills to mastering physical control of the motorcycle. At the end of each chapter are drills designed to transform the book's ideas into solid, practical riding skills. Riding in the Zone takes riders to the next level in their skill set.

The Race Glass Remy Dean,2014-03-18 The Race Glass by Remy Dean Paul, Mark and Nancy have finished school and are facing a British summer of uncertainty while they consider how to move on... three 'average' teenagers who learn the meaning of growing up and letting go. 'Snail Racing' tells the story of three friends attempting to take control of their futures, dealing with the subtle and complex issues of gender, belonging, connection, and alienation - a short story that is both poignant and told with an underlying wry wit... and, yes, they do race snails. College student Mac, lonely though surrounded by friends, is obsessed with his guitar - the only thing he can really relate to and express himself through. 'Guitar Hero' picks up on the themes of 'Snail Racing' and ups the ante in a world of free sex, cheap drink and expensive amplifiers - the second short story presented in this retrospective is delineated with a gentle humanity and reminds those who may have forgotten that the folly of youth is often a brave front. In a future world of virtual warfare, those with the fastest synaptic responses become heroes. In 'Homunculus', we meet Gurt, a 'Top Tester' for a bio-tech conglomerate that develops new kinds of weapons - but he is being changed by his experiences just as any real soldier is. Has he been contaminated? Is he losing part of himself or discovering himself anew? What secret is Gabby hinting at? Something strange is happening... and soldiers must have their orders. Mixing elements from SF, zombie horror and romance, the third short story in this collection remains highly relevant in a time when we are gradually losing-and-finding ourselves in the digital world... 'The Race Glass' is a retrospective, novelette-length, collection of short stories from the author of 'Scraps' and is presented here with an insightful introduction by Remy Dean.
