Wear Sunscreen Mary Schmich,2012-05-22 What she wrote was funny and wise and charming, so I would have been proud had the words been mine.-- Kurt Vonnegut, New York Times Wear Sunscreen, now a hit video on YouTube.com, has been seen by millions of viewers. It all began with a column titled Advice, Like Youth, Probably Just Wasted on the Young, written by Mary Schmich and published in the Chicago Tribune on June 1, 1997. Posted on the Web, Schmich's column quickly became an international sensation. Friends e-mailed it to friends, the media picked up on it, and a star was born. There was only one problem: Everyone thought the column was an actual commencement address given by author Kurt Vonnegut. Eventually, Mary Schmich was correctly identified as the author. AMP published her advice as a gift book in 1998. The following year, Wear Sunscreen became a hit song.

Sunscreens--biohazard Elizabeth Plourde,2011-06-21 This book brings together the latest medical research confirming what the author has found to be the truth about sunscreens. Most sunscreen chemicals are either estrogen-like or act as thyroid disruptors, which impact the body's ecosystem. These chemicals are flooding our water supply and oceans causing damage to their ecosystems. It has been proven that 97% of American's have these chemicals in their bloodstreams whether they use sunscreen, or not! Sunscreens have been said to have a potential to protect us from skin cancers. However, since sunscreens have hit the market - skin cancers have risen each year while most other cancer incident rates are currently declining. It is time to take a look at what we are doing to our bodies and ecosystems. The author has done the research so the public can make informed choices about what they put on their bodies. What we have been doing may not have been a good choice because it was not an informed choice.
