Hateship, Friendship, Courtship, Loveship, Marriage Alice Munro, 2007-12-18
WINNER OF THE NOBEL PRIZE® IN LITERATURE 2013 In the her tenth collection (the title story of which is the basis for the new film Hateship Loveship), Alice Munro achieves new heights, creating narratives that loop and swerve like memory, and conjuring up characters as thorny and contradictory as people we know ourselves. A tough-minded housekeeper jettisons the habits of a lifetime because of a teenager's practical joke. A college student visiting her brassy, unconventional aunt stumbles on an astonishing secret and its meaning in her own life. An incorrigible philanderer responds with unexpected grace to his wife's nursing-home romance. Hateship, Friendship, Courtship, Loveship, Marriage is Munro at her best, tirelessly observant, serenely free of illusion, deeply and gloriously humane.

Life Cycle of a Bear Steven Kleinman, 2021-01-10 In Steven Kleinman's Life Cycle of a Bear, men are bears, wolves, starfish, and clowns, but they are also fathers, addicts, veterans, failures, and friends. This is not another book about how bad men have it. There are no heroes here. Instead, it is a book of vast imagination and steadfast intimacy, of compassion and clear-eyed dissent, about one locality and thus our world. Kleinman's reckoning with the mythologies and communities born of the violence of men is as tenderly wrought as it is tenacious and true. - Jennifer Chang

The Biography of a Grizzly Ernest Thompson Seton, 1900

A Libertarian Walks Into a Bear Matthew Hongoltz-Hetling, 2020-09-15 A tiny American town's plans for radical self-government overlooked one hairy detail: no one told the bears. Once upon a time, a group of libertarians got together and hatched the Free Town Project, a plan to take over an American town and completely eliminate its government. In 2004, they set their sights on Grafton, NH, a barely populated settlement with one paved road. When they descended on Grafton, public funding for pretty much everything shrank: the fire department, the library, the schoolhouse. State and federal laws became meek suggestions, scarcely heard in the town's thick wilderness. The anything-goes atmosphere soon caught the attention of Grafton's neighbors: the bears. Freedom-loving citizens ignored hunting laws and regulations on food disposal. They built a tent city in an effort to get off the grid. The bears smelled food and opportunity. A Libertarian Walks Into a Bear is the sometimes funny, sometimes terrifying tale of what happens when a government disappears into the woods. Complete with gunplay, adventure, and backstabbing politicians, this is the ultimate story of a quintessential American experiment -- to live free or die, perhaps from a bear.

Bears of Bath Paul Birkeland-Green, 2014-07-17 'A fragment of window glass catches the sun and emits rays of light in all directions. This is no ordinary piece of glass; it is a piece of glass as old as time. It was formed in a moment when worlds collide. From the deep reaches of space a celestial rock strikes desert sand and the fusion creates a unique object. Collected and revered for it's beauty, it begins a journey across countries and cultures. From that time to this its special qualities effect everything that receive its rays. Now it resides, in a sleepy corner of an ordinary street, in an ordinary city it works its magic for all that fall under its spell. Comfortable Place, Bath, England is now its home. Everything that bathes in its light is affected by it...in very unusual ways!' This is a tale of friendship, a tale of a magical place and those who protect it. It is a tale of ancient secrets and one teddy bear's quest for the 'Vessel of Light.' It is a tale of a forgotten Victorian Charity Shop and the teddy bears that live there. In enchanted 'Comfortable Place', down by the river in the city of Bath, something ancient and evil is about to steal the world of Biscuit and his friends. Suitable for ages: 11+.
