Heinkel He 100 Record Breaker Erwin Hood,2007 This third title in the series is a wonderful reference source on the development and operational record of this relatively unknown aircraft.

Heinkel He 100 Hans-Peter Dabrowski,1997-01-07 During the late 1930s the He 100 was the fastest aircraft, yet was used only for propaganda purposes.

Heinkel 100, 112 R. S. Hirsch,Ursula Feist,Heinz J. Nowarra,1967

Heinkel 100, 112 R. S. Hirsch,Uwe Feist,Heinz J. Nowarra,1967-01-01 Beskriver de tyske jagerfly Heinkel He 100 og He 112, som var flykonstruktør Ernst Heinkels bud på jagerfly i tiden op til 2. verdenskrig. Typen He 112V-5 blev således det første bemandede raket-/jetfly, der fløj en kontrolleret flyvning.

Heinkel He 111: The Latter Years Chris Goss,2018-06-30 The Heinkel He 111 was the main workhorse of the Luftwaffes bomber force throughout much of the Second World War. Consequently, when Hitler launched Operation Barbarossa in June 1941, three entire Kampfgeschwader consisted of He 111s. Initially used as direct support for the German ground forces, as the campaign progressed the He 111 was switched to attacking the Soviet infrastructure, particularly trains and marshaling yards, and used as a transport aircraft taking in supplies and for troop evacuation. Variants of the He 111 were used in anti-shipping roles, in both the Atlantic and the Mediterranean, and even for aerial launching of V-1 flying bombs, continuing the war against the towns and cities of the United Kingdom. In this selection of unrivaled images collected over many years, and now part of Frontline's new War in the Air series, the operations of this famous aircraft in the latter years of the Second World War are portrayed and brought to life. A companion title to Heinkel He 111: The Early Years.

Heinkel He 178-Redeaux David Myhra PhD,2013-09-28 In the early morning hours (4 am) of 27 August 1939, five days before the outbreak of what would become World War Two, a small group of people gathered at the Ernst Heinkel AG grass airfield at Marienehe near Rostock. They were there to witness the first flight of the first turbojet-powered aircraft in history, the Heinkel He 178, piloted by company test pilot Erich Warsitz. This is the history of this magnificent aircraft, pieced together by author David Myhra, PhD from documents and reports long thought nonexistent. Computer artist Jozef Gatiaľ has contributed the colored plates in the middle of this book, to show how the He 178 would have looked in real life.

Heinkel He 219 Uhu Marek J. Murawski,Marek Ryś,2013 Heinkel He 219 Uhu vol. II The glossy monograph describes the famous Luftwaffe night fighter. This comprehensive book describes the history and combat record of all units once flying He 219 Uhu. Numerous archival photos reveal many details about color schemes and unit markings. 219 exquisite 3D graphics perfectly depict even the smallest He 219 airframe components thus helping every reader discover structural design of this unique aircraft.

1/72 Heinkel He 111 Ps of KG 27 Maciej Goralczyk,Andrzej Sadlo,2013-02-15 * Perfect for modelers The Heinkel He 111 was a German aircraft designed by Siegfried and Walter Günter in the early 1930s in violation of the Treaty of Versailles. Often described as a Wolf in sheep's clothing, it masqueraded as a transport aircraft, though its actual purpose was to provide the Luftwaffe with a fast medium bomber. Perhaps the best recognized German bomber due to the distinctive, extensively glazed, bullet-shaped greenhouse nose of later versions, the Heinkel was the most numerous and the primary Luftwaffe bomber during the early stages of World War II. It fared well until the Battle of Britain, when its weak defensive armament, relatively low speed, and poor maneuverability were exposed. Nevertheless, it proved capable of sustaining heavy damage and remaining airborne. As the war progressed, the He 111 was used in a variety of roles on every front in the European Theater. It was used as a strategic bomber during the Battle of Britain, a torpedo bomber during the Battle of the Atlantic, and a medium bomber and a transport aircraft on the Western, Eastern, Mediterranean, Middle Eastern, and North African Fronts. Although constantly upgraded, the Heinkel He 111 became obsolete during the latter part of the war. It was intended to be replaced by the Luftwaffe's Bomber B project, but the delays and eventual cancellation of the project forced the Luftwaffe to continue using the He 111 until the end of the war. Manufacture ceased in 1944, at which point, piston-engine bomber production was largely halted in favor of fighter aircraft. With the German bomber force defunct, the He 111 was used for transport and logistics. The design of the Heinkel endured after the war in the CASA 2.111. The Spanish received a batch of He 111H-16s in 1943 along with an agreement to license build Spanish versions. Its airframe was produced in Spain under license by Construcciones Aeronauticas SA. The design differed significantly in power plant only. The Heinkel's descendant continued in service until 1973, when it was retired. The second release in the Red Series is devoted to the Heinkel He 111 Ps of KG 27. It contains three striking schemes from the 1939-1940 period. All planes are presented and described in this 12 page, full-color guidebook, which also includes two photos of one of the aircraft. All machines carry attractive artwork applied by the crews. None of them has been previously done by other decal manufacturers.

Heinkel He 111 Heinz J. Nowarra,1980

Heinkel He 219 Uhu Marek Ryś,2021-01-31 At the end of the 1930s, the Luftwaffe command announced a need for a high-speed reconnaissance aircraft capable of performing bombing tasks. Heinkel introduced the P1055 concept designed by Rudolf Lusser. The plane was to have a range of 4,000 km and a maximum speed of 750 km/h. Soon the demand was changed and it was now to be a heavy fighter. The project was adjusted, but its fate was uncertain in the face of the volatile decisions of the RLM. At the same time, General der Nachtjagd Josef Kammhuber was looking for an aircraft that could be used as a modern night fighter. Ultimately, the P1055 design was modified and the He 219 V1 prototype was flown in this form in November 1942. Then it was significantly modified and the next prototypes were completed and the first samples of the He 219A-0 trial series (which also included some prototypes), equipped with FuG 212 and FuG 202 radar. Later, the newer FuG 220 were installed.

Heinkel He 219 UHU vol. I Marek Murawski,2013-01-19 The Heinkel He 219 Uhu was a night fighter that served with the German Luftwaffe in the later stages of World War II. A relatively sophisticated design, the He 219 possessed a variety of innovations, including an advanced VHF-band intercept radar. It was also the first operational military aircraft in the world to be equipped with ejection seats, and the first operational German World War II-era aircraft with tricycle landing gear. Had the Uhu been available in quantity, it might have had a significant effect upon the strategic night bombing offensive of the Royal Air Force; but only 294 of all models were built by the end of the war and these saw only limited service.

Heinkel He 111 Krzysztof Janowicz,2010-03-15 * Free extras for modelers, including decals and masking foil * Eighteen sheets of technical drawings and five color charts The first part of a monograph on the German WW2 bomber, Heinkel He 111 describes the development history of its all versions with coverage of changes made in their variants, sub-variants and field modifications. Originally designed as a bomber plane, He 111 was used as a torpedo and reconnaissance aircraft as well as - after the unique modification - for towing huge Me 321 gliders. The book features a detailed description of the aircraft's structure and technical data and a chapter about camouflage and markings. Complete with 112 pages, 99 photographs, 18 sheets of technical drawings in 1:48 and 1:72 scale with specification of external changes on production-run versions of the aircraft and 5 color charts with 8 examples of camouflage schemes. Free 1:48 and 1:72 decals for 5 schemes: Heinkel He 111 P-2, '1G+EK' of 2./KG 27 Boelcke, Werneuchen (Germany), September 1939. Heinkel He 111 H-6, '1H+FK' of 2./KG 26, Grosseto (Italy), December 1942. Heinkel He 111 H-6, '1H+AH' of 1./KG 26, Bardufos (Norway), Summer 1942. Heinkel He 111 H-16, '5J+ER' of 7./KG 4, Białystok (Poland), Spring 1944. Heinkel He 111 H-20, '5J+GH' of 1./KG 4, Dresden (Germany), April 1945. About the Series Monographs is a series focusing on an individual type of aircraft. Each monograph contains descriptions of the aircraft's origins, its variants and combat history. Each volume includes several hundred archive photographs, technical scale drawings and color profile artworks, with free extras for modelers, including decals and masking foil.

The Heinkel He 219 R. Francis Ferguson,2012

Heinkel He 280 Joachim Dressel,1997-01-07 Though never used in combat, the He 280 was the first turbo-jet aircraft designed for fighter use.

Black Cross 4 Heinkel He 111 Regnat Karl-Heinz,2004-05-26 In all its many variants, about 7,000 Heinkel He 111s were produced. The type first flew in 1935 but did not enter Luftwaffe service until 1937, though a civilian transport version had been in service with Lufthansa since the previous year. The Heinkel He 111 first saw active service during the Spanish Civil War. The aircraft was used to equip Kampfgruppe 88, the bomber component of Legion Condor, Hitler's aerial assistance to the Spanish fascists. Its first operational sorties took the form of raids against Republican held airfields in March 1937. Throughout the course of World War II, the Heinkel He 111 served in a wide variety of roles. Though mainly used as a bomber, it also undertook reconnaissance, torpedo bombing, glider towing and transport roles.

Heinkel He 111 Maciej Noszczak,2018-06 Heinkel He 111 is one of the most popular medium Luftwaffe bombers from the Second World War. It was also built in second-largest number according to the Third Reich bombers, only Junkers Ju 88 was ahead of it. The He 111 service began before the outbreak of the war, because Heinkels took part in the civil war in Spain. He 111 served in the Luftwaffe throughout the war, in Spanish air force they flew long after its end.
