The Art of John Berkey Jane Frank, 2003 Perhaps the most widely respected of all living space artists and one of the giants in the history of science fiction art, John Berkey has had a long and exceptionally distinguished career. He started as a professional artist in the 1950s, working for various studios before spending eight formative years at Brown & Bigelow, the major calendar-publishing company of the day; there he developed his amazing landscape skills in depicting scenes of Americana and the like. On turning freelance he soon brought those skills - and his dazzlingly evocative neo-impressionist style - to the field of science fiction. His name is now spoken with reverence and awe by his fellow artists in the field.

The Year's Best Science Fiction: Eighteenth Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 2001-08-18 Widely regarded as the essential book for sci-fi fans, this year's collection contains over two dozen stories.

Fantastic Science-fiction Art, 1926-1954 Lester Del Rey, 1975 No form of art ever gave freer reign to the imagination than that found on the covers of the early science-fiction magazines. But it was imagination based firmly on possible realities. Long before there were spaceships, flying saucers, robots and lasers, science-fiction art was depicting them magnificently.--back cover.

The Year's Best Science Fiction: Twenty-Second Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 2005-07 Science fiction. More than two dozen outstanding tales written in the previous year.

Images of the Anthropocene in Speculative Fiction Tereza Dědinová, Weronika Łaszkiewicz, Sylwia Borowska-Szerszun, 2021-03-01 In order to demonstrate that speculative fiction provides a valuable contribution to the discussion about the challenges of the Anthropocene, Images of the Anthropocene in Speculative Fiction investigates a range of novels whose subject matter pertains to various aspects of the Anthropocene. These include the destruction and protection of the natural environment, the relationship between human and non-human inhabitants of the planet, the role of myth in the shaping of and combat against the Anthropocene, the political dimensions of the Anthropocene, the ensuing threat of the Apocalypse, and the role of post-apocalyptic narratives. To explore these topics our authors examine the works of Patricia Briggs, M.R. Carey, Dmitry Glukhovsky, Ursula K. Le Guin, N.K. Jemisin, Stephenie Meyer, China Miéville, James Patterson, Maggie Stiefvater, J.R.R. Tolkien, and Scott Westfield. Their essays demonstrate that speculative fiction, given its ability to pursue scenarios of alternative history and present familiar things in an unfamiliar way, can alter the readers' perception of their duties and responsibilities towards their communities and the world, so that the threat of human-wrought destruction might ultimately be averted.

The Year's Best Science Fiction: Twenty-Fifth Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 2008-07-08 A collection of the best stories published in 2007.

The Man in the Moone Francis Godwin, 2009-08-14 Arguably the first work of science fiction in English, Francis Godwin's The Man in the Moone was published in 1638, pseudonymously and posthumously. The novel, which tells the story of Domingo Gonsales, a Spaniard who flies to the moon by geese power and encounters an advanced lunar civilization, had an enormous impact on the European imagination for centuries after its initial publication. With its discussion of advanced ideas about astronomy and cosmology, the novel is an important example of both popular fiction and scientific speculation. This Broadview Edition includes a critical introduction that places the text in its scientific and historical contexts. The rich selection of appendices includes related writings by Godwin and his predecessors and contemporaries on magnetism, human flight, voyages to real and unreal lands, and the possibility of extra-terrestrial life.

The Year's Best Science Fiction: Twenty-Third Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 2006-07-11 Collects short stories exploring themes of time and space travel, self-discovery, and science and technology.

The Science Fiction Hall of Fame, Volume Two A Robert Silverberg, Ben Bova, 2004-12 The mysteries and marvels of the science fiction world are brought to life in this compilation of stories representing the work of major authors in this field.

The Cybernetic Imagination in Science Fiction Patricia S.

Warrick,1980 Science-fiction criticism. Focuses on literary & scientific material.

Science Fiction Poster Art Tony Nourmand,Graham Marsh,2003 Of all the movie genres, science fiction has provided poster artists with the latest imaginative freedom and wildest sources of inspiration, and the artists have responded by creating some of their very best examples of their work, from the iconic figure of the female robot in Fritz Lang's Metropolis to the familiar shapes of R2D2 and C3PO from Star Wars.;This collection, starting with the original 1912 French poster for Conquest of the Pole, features posters for all the sci-fi fans' favourite movies: 2001, Jaws, Close Encounters, The Creature from the Black Lagoon, Forbidden Planet, Planet of the Apes, Rollerball and series such as the Star Wars, Star Trek and Alien films, as well as lesser known or long-forgotten works like Girl in the Moon, Invaders from Mars and feature films featuring Flash Gordon and the 1940s American superheroes such as Superman and Batman.;Moreover, although many of the films may be familiar, a fair proportion of the posters will not. For alongside the widely-used British and American posters the editors have juxtaposed the work, Amazon Prime members are welcome to use their free monthly borrow to get this list and download hundreds of the free classics for future reading. This linked list of over 350 free science fiction stories and novels in Amazon's permanent collection was recently updated with hundreds of works from famous science fiction writers who wrote in the 1950's and 1960's and apparently forgot to extend their copyright protection. For the more recent authors SciFi fans will be familiar with, I just list the links (arranged by author) that will take you to their titles in the Kindle store for free download. For the earlier writers, I usually include a one or two line summary of their books. I thought I read all the classic SciFi twenty years ago, but I found a couple dozen authors I'd never heard of while researching Amazon's free collection. Most of the titles in this linked list of the free classic science fiction on Amazon were written before the Golden Age of science fiction, but influenced the authors who came later. I've included several early utopia/dystopia books, a popular subject in the late Victorian period. A few supernatural titles are included when the author also wrote other types of books. I didn't include fairy tales, and I made judgment calls on skipping science fiction/fantasy that was written for children and young adults, or just included a few samples from those authors.

With the Night Mail Rudyard Kipling, 2017-03-17 1905
Dystopian Science Fiction, in two stories 'What under the stars are you doing here, you sky-scraping chimney-sweep?' he shouts as we two drift side by side. 'Do you know this is a Mail lane? You call yourself a sailor, sir? You ain't fit to peddle toy balloons to an Esquimaux. Your name and number! Report and get down, and be --!' 'I've been blown up once, ' the shock-headed man cries, hoarsely, as a dog barking. 'I don't care two flips of a contact for anything you can do, Postey.' 'Don't you, sir? But I'll make you care. I'll have you towed stern first to Disko and broke up. You can't recover insurance if you're broke for obstruction. Do you understand that?' Then the stranger bellows: 'Look at my propellers! There's been a wulli-wa down below that has knocked us into umbrella-frames! We've been blown up about forty thousand feet! We're all one conjuror's watch inside! My mate's arm's broke; my engineer's head's cut open; my Ray went out when the engines smashed; and... and...

The Seven Beauties of Science Fiction Istvan Csicsery-Ronay, 2012-10-01 This major critical work from one of the preeminent voices in science fiction scholarship reframes the genre as a way of understanding today's world. As the application of technoscience increasingly transforms every aspect of life, science fiction has become an essential mode of imagining the horizons of possibility. Though the broad scope of science fiction may vary in artistic quality and sophistication, it shares a desire to imagine a collective future for the human species and the world. A strikingly high proportion of today's films, commercial art, popular music, video games, and non-genre fiction are what Csicsery-Ronay calls "science fictional"—stimulating science-fictional habits of mind. We no longer treat science fiction as merely a genre-engine producing formulaic effects, but as a mode of awareness, which frames experiences as if they were aspects of science fiction. The Seven Beauties of Science Fiction describes science fiction as a constellation of seven diverse cognitive attractions that are particularly formative of science-fictionality. These are the "seven beauties" of the title: fictive neology, fictive novums, future history, imaginary science, the science-fictional sublime, the science-fictional grotesque, and the Technologiade, or the epic of technoscience's development into a global regime.
