The Language of the Sea James MacManus, 2011-05-10 A lyrical and affecting family drama reminiscent of The Shipping News which challenges readers to re-examine their perception of nature A striking blend of realism and contemporary myth-making, this unforgettable novel tells the story of marine biologist Leo Kemp. Having lost his teaching position thanks to outspoken views, Leo decides to go on one last field trip with his students. The outing becomes disastrous when the weather turns and Leo is thrown overboard. The evocative description of Leo's journey explores what can happen beyond our perceived knowledge of science. James MacManus tests the bounds of reality with his cunning narrative set within the beautiful community of Cape Cod.

Lion's Quest Michael-Scott Earle, 2021-07-31 Leo The Lion Lennox is the 10-year world champion of Astafar Unlimited, the best virtual reality game of all time. However, Leo has become bored with his success, and wonders where his next challenge will lie. Then he meets the mysterious Zarra, and she tempts the champ to try her cutting-edge game. Leo soon discovers a virtual world that is beyond fantastic. Can he resist the lure of this amazing game and the beautiful woman that has asked him to quest on her behalf?

Tamer Michael-Scott Earle, 2024-03-30 Control dinosaurs. Tame women. Rule the world. With the defeat of Wyss, Victor has taken out his most deadly adversary yet and added loyal survivors to his tribe. But Dinosaurland has ways of keeping everyone on their toes. Distant smoke to the east alerts Victor that potential allies are in trouble, so he must choose between making a long journey without his most powerful friends, or losing the opportunity to advance the technology of his tribe.

The Shipping News Annie Proulx, 2008-01-01 Winner of the Pulitzer Prize, Annie Proulx's The Shipping News is a vigorous, darkly comic, and at times magical portrait of the contemporary

North American family. Quoyale, a third-rate newspaper hack, with a "head shaped like a crenshaw, no neck, reddish hair...features as bunched as kissed fingertips," is wrenched violently out of his workaday life when his two-timing wife meets her just desserts. An aunt convinces Quoyale and his two emotionally disturbed daughters to return with her to the starkly beautiful coastal landscape of their ancestral home in Newfoundland. Here, on desolate Quoyale's Point, in a house empty except for a few mementos of the family's unsavory past, the battered members of three generations try to cobble up new lives. Newfoundland is a country of coast and cove where the mercury rarely rises above seventy degrees, the local culinary delicacy is cod cheeks, and it's easier to travel by boat and snowmobile than on anything with wheels. In this harsh place of cruel storms, a collapsing fishery, and chronic unemployment, the aunt sets up as a yacht upholsterer in nearby Killick-Claw, and Quoyale finds a job reporting the shipping news for the local weekly, the Gammy Bird (a paper that specializes in sexual-abuse stories and grisly photos of car accidents). As the long winter closes its jaws of ice, each of the Quoyales confronts private demons, reels from catastrophe to minor triumph—in the company of the obsequious Mavis Bangs; Diddy Shovel the strongman; drowned Herald Prowse; cane-twirling Beety; Nutbeem, who steals foreign news from the radio; a demented cousin the aunt refuses to recognize; the much-zippered Alvin Yark; silent Wavey; and old Billy Pretty, with his bag of secrets. By the time of the spring storms Quoyale has learned how to gut cod, to escape from a pickle jar, and to tie a true lover's knot.

Nowheresville #5 Catherine Hapka, 2022-03-01 Set in Pennsylvania, the fifth book in the American Horse Tale series follows the story of a young girl who moves to a small rural town and begins a friendship with the horse next door. Nat is a city girl through and through. She loves playing in open fire hydrants, laughing with her friends during block parties, and making trips to her local comic book shop to grab the latest copy of her favorite graphic novel series. So she's heartbroken when her mom says they're moving to a rural town hours away from Philadelphia. Who wants to live in the middle of Nowheresville? But getting used to her new small-town life might not be as bad as Nat thought now that she's met the boy next door and his beautiful horse, Ghost. Nowheresville is part of a series of books written by several authors highlighting the unique relationships between young girls and their horses.

The Magic Campervan Lisa Selvidge, 2021-11-06 Merida, a special campervan made in Portugal, has arrived in England. Zoe and Vincent are close by in a park in Norwich. Zoe is avoiding her nagging mother and the school bully when she meets a strange girl who whizzes down a slide that shimmers gold, then blue, then purple. When Zoe tries it is like sliding through clay. Zoe pinches the girl and buries her shoes but the strange girl is strangely nice to her and leads her, Vincent and her mother to Merida where they are told they are about to go on the greatest journey of their lives. Zoe and Vincent insist that it involves the fastest slide in the world. But not even Zoe is prepared for a slide that belongs to a troll in Iceland, or for a campervan that is much more than a campervan, as they embark on a journey to help a kidnapped girl get back to Iceland. The journey itself is also much more than a journey as both Zoe and her single mum discover more about themselves and why they act and react the way they do. Merida, it turns out, has wheels both on the ground, and in the air, and more than diesel in her engine. 'Lisa Selvidge's thrilling and insightful novels show her to be a very gifted storyteller!' Richard Zimler, author of The Last Kabbalist of Lisbon and The Gospel According to Lazarus 'Merida, the magic campervan, is a fantastic creation - a kind of modern day Mary Poppins crossed with Chitty Chitty Bang Bang. A great mix of the magical and the everyday with a fine moral about transcending our pasts underlying it all. With wild travels, humour and a glorious journey, this is a story for children and adults to enjoy together. I loved it!' Ian Nettleton, author of The Last Migration 'Lisa Selvidge's The Forbidden Slide is a fun book, involving a quest for the fastest slide in the world. Adult caution, control, and common sense is pitted against children's thirst for excitement, and the magic talking-flying-advice-giving campervan is definitely on the children's side. Encounter follows encounter on the way as the campervan proceeds. At the heart of the book is a belief in the get-up-and-go spirit of childhood. ' George Szirtes, poet and translator, winner of CLPE Prize 2015

And every good dad's gotta learn to roll with the punches. So? oh well! Looks like it's time to unleash the cutest little bloodthirsty army this world has ever seen
