Ideas & Origami Deepak Gupta,2020-09-10 Different people have different ideas because the world is infinite, and we all perceive it according to the information present in our minds. The world's first greatest invention was the wheel, and still the most valuable invention of all time, because when it was invented, people needed it the most. An idea can be implemented in diverse ways to obtain different results depending on what makes it. In this book, we will learn how we can bring genius non-existent ideas from our mind and how can we implement it according to our requirements. Different ideas serve different purposes, but if any idea is not good currently then it's possible it will be good for the future. Ideas in the mind only, are like the worthless place that can only be enjoyed by an individual as good fantasy.
