Sandworm Andy Greenberg, 2020-10-20 With the nuance of a reporter and the pace of a thriller writer, Andy Greenberg gives us a glimpse of the cyberwars of the future while at the same time placing his story in the long arc of Russian and Ukrainian history. —Anne Applebaum, bestselling author of Twilight of Democracy The true story of the most devastating act of cyberwarfare in history and the desperate hunt to identify and track the elite Russian agents behind it: [A] chilling account of a Kremlin-led cyberattack, a new front in global conflict (Financial Times). In 2014, the world witnessed the start of a mysterious series of cyberattacks. Targeting American utility companies, NATO, and electric grids in Eastern Europe, the strikes grew ever more brazen. They culminated in the summer of 2017, when the malware known as NotPetya was unleashed, penetrating, disrupting, and paralyzing some of the world's largest businesses—from drug manufacturers to software developers to shipping companies. At the attack's epicenter in Ukraine, ATMs froze. The railway and postal systems shut down. Hospitals went dark. NotPetya spread around the world, inflicting an unprecedented ten billion dollars in damage—the largest, most destructive cyberattack the world had ever seen. The hackers behind these attacks are quickly gaining a reputation as the most dangerous team of cyberwarriors in history: a group known as Sandworm. Working in the service of Russia's military intelligence agency, they represent a persistent, highly skilled force, one whose talents are matched by their willingness to launch broad, unrestrained attacks on the most critical infrastructure of their adversaries. They target government and private sector, military and civilians alike. A chilling, globe-spanning detective story, Sandworm considers the danger this force poses to our national security and stability. As the Kremlin's role in foreign government manipulation comes into greater focus, Sandworm exposes the realities not just of Russia's global digital offensive, but of an era where warfare ceases to be waged on the battlefield. It reveals how the lines between digital and physical conflict, between wartime and peacetime, have begun to blur—with world-shaking implications.

Battle of Brothers Robert Lacey, 2021-10-26 A New York Times bestseller. From bestselling author and historical consultant to the award-winning Netflix series The Crown, an unparalleled insider account of tumult, secrecy and schism in the Royal family. The world has watched Prince William and Prince Harry since they were born. Raised by Princess Diana to be the closest of brothers, how have the boy princes grown into very different, now distanced men? From royal insider, biographer and historian Robert Lacey, this book reveals the untold details of William and Harry's closeness and estrangement, asking what happens when two sons are raised for vastly different futures – one burdened with the responsibility of one day becoming king, the other with the knowledge that he will always remain spare. How have William and Harry both agreed and diverged in their views of what a modern royal owes to their country? Were the seeds of damage sowed by Prince Charles and Princess Diana as their marriage unraveled for all the world to see? In the previous generation, how have Prince Charles and Prince Andrew's own relations strained under the Crown? What role has Queen Elizabeth II played in marshalling her feuding heirs? What parts have Kate Middleton and Meghan Markle played in helping their husbands to choose their differing paths? And what is the real, unvarnished story behind Harry and Meghan's dramatic departure? In the most intimate vision yet of life behind closed doors, with its highs, lows and discretions all laid out, this is a journey into royal life as never offered before.

Swamp Thing by Scott Snyder Deluxe Edition Scott Snyder, 2015 Doctor Alec Holland's desire to leave the Green behind and forget his time as the Swamp Thing is denied when a new darkness threatens the world and the Green changes Swamp Thing from protector to conqueror.

Second Chance at Life S R Johnson, 2023-06-17 Madison, Emily, Katherine, and I were all packing for our spring break in South Beach. We were almost ready to head to the airport when we double-checked to ensure we had everything. I feel like I'm missing something, I said to no one in particular. Sabrina, calm down; let's go over your list of stuff to pack, Madison said. Alright I replied as I handed Madison my list. Madison and I went through my bag for the week to see if I missed anything. Eventually, we discovered I had forgotten my shampoo, conditioner, and sunblock. So, I ran back to my bathroom to grab the few things I missed before I made it back to the living room and threw them in my suitcase. I'm ready, I called out to the girls. We are too they said in unison. We walked out the door before Katherine locked the door. Once we climbed into the car my dad sent us, we buckled our seatbelts while the driver loaded our bags in the trunk. As soon as the driver loaded our bags into the car, he climbed into the driver's seat and drove us to the airport. When we got to the airport's drop-off section, the driver unloaded our bags from the trunk of the car as we climbed out. Madison, Emily, Katherine, and I walked into the airport to get the tickets that my dad purchased for us. I talked to the lady behind the counter and told her our names to look up. Yes, ma'am four first class tickets to Florida the lady said. First class, I replied, shocked. Yes, ma'am, I took the call personally. Your father said that his little girl was going on vacation with her friends, and he wanted you to have the best flight experience possible Well, thank you, I replied as I took the tickets then we left her to drop our suitcases in the baggage area then we went to find the gate for Florida. Once we found the entrance, we waited until our turn to board the plane. We took our seats as soon as we boarded the plane and found first class. While we were waiting for the plane to take off I texted my dad. Thanks for the first-class tickets; I love you, Daddy. A few minutes later I got a response from Dad. I'm happy you liked the surprise; I love you too, sweetheart. I then put my phone in my bag before I reclined my chair to sleep. Since this was a late flight, we would arrive at the hotel first thing in the morning. A few hours later, we landed in Florida, so we went to baggage claim when we stepped off the plane. While we waited for the bags to come through, we talked about the upcoming week on the beach. After we got the bags, we made it to the pick-up area, where we saw a driver holding a sign that said Washington and friends, so we walked up to him. Are you here to pick up Sabrina Washington I asked?.Yes, ma'am, the driver replied. Well, that's us He led us to the car and opened the doors for us before he loaded our bags in the trunk. Then he climbed into the driver's seat as I turned my phone on. Once we got to the Sierra Hotel and Resort, we all climbed out of the car while the driver unloaded our bags. Miss Washington, I was instructed to give you my number. If you need a ride anywhere, please call me, the driver said. All right, so my father hired you as a driver, or did he hire you as a driver and bodyguard I replied, to which the driver nodded in response. Once my friends and I were settled in our suite. We decided to get ready to head to the beach. After we all got in our swimsuits, we all got our beach towels, chairs, and the beach umbrella. Then we headed out the suite door to get to the lobby. Madison, Emily, Katherine and I walked straight in front of the hotel to get close to the water. Then we found a nice place to set the umbrella up. I moved my chair into the sun when the umbrella and chairs were in position, So I could lie down to try to get a tan.

The Last Mermaid Shana Abé, 2008-04-29 Shana Abé has entranced countless readers with her passion-filled novels of adventure, intrigue, and romance. Now the author of The Secret Swan delivers a gift from the sea: three hauntingly beautiful tales connected by a legend, a locket, and a love beyond time. 531 a.d.: The tiny island of Kell is said to be enchanted, inhabited by an extraordinary creature who comforts shipwrecked sailors passing into the next world. Prince Aedan of the Isles believes in no such nonsense—until he awakens on Kell itself and meets the sensuous siren who rescued him from the sea. 1721: Ronan MacMhuirich, Earl of Kell, is the target of an unlikely assassin: Leila, a mysterious woman from an exotic land. But his irresistibly beautiful would-be slayer is in just as much danger as Ronan when she falls for this man with a magic of his own. 2004: What do you do when you inherit a Scottish island you never knew existed—and find yourself pursued by a handsome stranger who wants to buy it from you? That's what happens to Ruri Kell when she accepts Iain MacInnes's invitation to visit her birthright, and listens to a proposition as sinfully tempting as everything else about him. Three seductive love stories, three passionate couples, all linked by one of the most romantic myths of all.

Built for Caffeine Ben Crawford, 2013-11-15 BUILT FOR CAFFEINE by Ben Crawford is a celebration of New Zealand's cafe culture. Focusing on 20 of the country's unique cafés, Crawford captures their beautiful and innovative interiors. This inspirational book shows readers how to take elements of these stunning designs and bring them into their own space.

Enid Blyton Barbara Stoney, 2011-08-26 Enid Blyton is known throughout the world for her imaginative children's books and her enduring characters such as Noddy and the Famous Five. She is one of the most borrowed authors from British libraries and still holds a fascination for readers old and young alike. Yet until 1974, when Barbara Stoney first published her official biography, little was known about this most private author, even by members of her own family. The woman who emerged from Barbara Stoney's remarkable research was hardworking, complex, often difficult and, in many ways, childlike. Now this widely praised classic biography has been fully updated for the twenty-first century and, with the addition of new colour illustrations and a comprehensive list of Enid Blyton's writings, documents the growing appeal of this extraordinary woman throughout the world. The fascinating story of one of the world's most famous authors will intrigue and delight all those with an interest in her timeless books.

A Childhood at Green Hedges Imogen Smallwood, 1989 A fragmented autobiography by Enid Blyton's younger daughter.

Boas and Pythons of the World Mark O'Shea, 2011 Renowned snake expert Mark O'Shea takes readers on an exciting continent-by-continent journey to look at these snakes in their native habitats. Stunning color photographs and intriguing stories from O'Shea's encounters with these snakes in the wild bring these reptiles to life -- from cover.

Starlight Ida Pollock, 2009 Born in Kent, Ida Pollock began writing novels and stories while still at school, setting her first publication, Palanquins and Coloured Lanterns, in 1920's Shanghai. Having worked in London through the Blitz, in 1944 she married Hugh Pollock, the glamorous soldier and publisher who had previously been married to Enid Blyton. After the war Ida started writing again and soon she had acquired five publishers, nine pen-names and a million readers worldwide.

Lancia 037 Peter Collins, 2008-03-15 The world of rallying was changed forever on January 1st 1982 with the introduction of the new Group B rules. These virtually gave manufacturers carte blanche to design the fastest car they could for world rally special stages, so long as they built at least 200 identical examples. This is the story of Lancia's mid-engined and supercharged rally. The reader is taken from initial thinking about the car and conception, through development to the full history of its rallying lifetime with the help of the car designer and chief engineer, Ing Sergio Limone. Featuring many of Limone's own photographs during development, and interviews with team members. Illustrated with 250 stunning and rare rally action photos.

The Poetry of Religious Sorrow in Early Modern England Gary Kuchar, 2011-03-03 In early modern England, religious sorrow was seen as a form of spiritual dialogue between the soul and God, expressing how divine grace operates at the level of human emotion. Through close readings of both Protestant and Catholic poetry, Kuchar explains how the discourses of 'devout melancholy' helped generate some of the most engaging religious verse of the period. From Robert Southwell to John Milton, from Aemilia Lanyer to John Donne, the language of 'holy mourning' informed how poets represented the most intimate and enigmatic aspects of faith as lived experience. In turn, 'holy mourning' served as a way of registering some of the most pressing theological issues of the day. By tracing poetic representations of religious sorrow from Crashaw's devotional verse to Shakespeare's weeping kings, Kuchar expands our understanding of the interconnections between poetry, theology and emotion in post-Reformation England.
